WASTE PLANT BID BACK ON AGENDA

PLANS for an electricity processing plant near Penkridge which were thrown out by council bosses two years ago are back on the agenda.

Battle lines are being drawn between green power firm Farmgen and Dunston residents, who fear the plant would have a detrimental effect on the village landscape and increase traffic.

by Tim Spiers

The plans were rejected in 2010 but have been scaled down. The proposed anaerobic digester plant is now half the size of its predecessor, although it would still have three large storage tanks.

Farmgen insists traffic will decrease and that a belt of trees and other existing buildings at Dunston Heath Farm will help obscure the plant's view. It would convert waste into biogas.

But residents who campaigned to help throw out the original application are set to fight to have them rejected again, with a meeting in the pipeline in the next few weeks.

They maintain that traffic around St Leonard's First School, in School Lane, is already bad enough and that large and heavy vehicles could put children at risk.

Dunston resident Sarah Jones said: "It looks like basically the same plans so there will be the same problems.

"The road is the main problem because traffic up and down there is already ridiculous. When the kids get picked up from school you can't even get out of the lane."

Agent Ian Thompson, speaking on behalf of the applicants, said traffic would be reduced, with the flow of vehicles involved in the day-to-day running of the plant kept on fields.

"It's on a much smaller scale than two years ago and there can be no scepticism about traffic because it's only being generated across fields," Mr Thompson said.

"There will absolutely not be an increase in traffic on the roads.

"I can understand people's concerns but the plants are good for farms, are promoted by the government and we all like switching on our electricity. It'll just look like a typical farm."

The net production of electricity from the plant is estimated to be 800 kilowatts, the amount required to run around 1,000 homes.

A South Staffs Council spokesman confirmed the application had been validated earlier this month.

He added: "The original application was refused due to concerns over traffic and the impact it could have on the landscape.

"It could go before our planning committee later in the summer."

Deadline nears to nominate business

MP Aidan Burley has urged people to get involved in Cannock Chase's first ever Business Awards as the deadline looms for entries.

Nominations for one of the prestigious awards must be in by June 14.

The inaugural ceremony takes place in the Premier Suite at Bar Sport on Friday, July 6, hosted by TV presenter Llewela Bailey and with up to 250 people in attendance.

The awards have been organised by The Best of Cannock and the Chase MP.

The awards are open to any company within the Cannock Chase area. To nominate, go to www.cannockchasebusinessawards.co.uk

Winners

Awards include Most Innovative Business, Promising New Business, Family Owned Business and Notable Charity with the winners decided by a panel of respected local community members.

Mr Burley said: "The Cannock Chase Business Awards attempt to highlight the unsung businesses which are the lifeblood of our economy."

"We have already had a fantastic response. However, I would urge all local people to get involved before the deadline by nominating a local firm or charity they feel deserves recognition."

Bar in toast to the Queen

A POPULAR Cannock venue will be making a toast to the Queen for the Diamond Jubilee. Bar Sport, in High Green, hosts five days of celebrations starting tomorrow (Friday) until Tuesday (June 5).

The bar has been decked out with Union flag bunting and staff will join in the fun by dressing up in patriotic clothing. Barbecues will be held throughout the weekend and there will be offers on drinks.

A hairo's reception for trader

A HEDNESFORD trader will have a hair-raising jubilee as he has his head shaved in front of onlookers. Simon Orme will have the close shave on Saturday outside his Market Street salon SOS – as soon as £1,000 has been put in the pot. The money will go to Help For Heroes and Lupus UK.

Karaoke judge Wayne Feriday and contestant Laura Evans at the Pied Piper pub

Taking mic for karaoke contest

SINGERS at a pub karaoke competition are feeling the wrath of Cannock's very own version of Simon Cowell as they battle to win a £250 cash prize.

The Pied Piper, in Pye Green Road, has been inundated with contestants ready to impress judges in the weekly competition, which has been extended by demand to include two semi finals, before a grand final at the end of the month.

Sixteen hopefuls have made it through already and landlady Tracey Rogers said tomorrow's last heat before the semis would be hotly contested.

"We've got three judges and one of them, Wayne Feriday, definitely fancies himself as a bit of a Simon Cowell," she said.

"It's been a great competition so far and we've had a really good response and some excellent singers.

"We didn't realise it was going to be so popular but it's getting the punters in."

The other two judges are pub regulars.

Competition entry is £3 and the first semi final takes place next Friday (June 8).

Tracey added plans were being made for a Pied Piper talent competition later in the year. She said: "We want to include non-singers as well and hopefully it'll be just as popular."

Scheme to tackle jobless figures

A SCHEME to tackle youth unemployment across the district has been launched.

The Cannock Chase Community Partnership has introduced the 'Community Buddies' project.

It will focus on young people who are out of education, training or work, or at risk of becoming so. It will also help their families by providing details of supporting agencies.

Community Buddies has already linked up with work clubs, adult and community providers, children's centre family support teams and schools to enable them to use the service.

Displayed

The project is being led by Chase Council for Voluntary Service. Promotional flyers and posters promoting the initiative have been displayed across the district and a referral system is now in place.

Kent Parson, chief executive of Chase CVS, said: "This is an extension of a previously successful scheme.

"We hope to find and support many more people back into employment."

For more information about the Community Buddies project call Chase CVS on 01543 500404 or call the Chase Community Partnership on 01543 464368 or visit www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/partnerships

Entries open for village fun run

ORGANISERS of a village fun run have opened up the race for this year – and hope to attract a record number of entrants.

Some 618 people took part in the Penkridge Fun Run last year and the Round Table organisers are looking for even more to enter this year.

Chairman Mark Axcell said: "After last year's record numbers, we're opening entry early to allow people to get their forms back in plenty of time.

"This will be a busy summer but we've already had strong demand and positioning the Fun Run & Fun Day between the Jubilee Celebrations and the Olympics is already proving to be popular."

The two-and-a-half-mile run sets off from the Haling Dene Centre, in Cannock Road, at 11am on Sunday, June 24. It is open to all ages, with fancy dress also an option.The event will again be couple with a village fun day comprising side stalls and shows, a bouncy castle, facepainting, licensed bar, and barbecue.

Around 1,000 spectators turned out to enjoy the fun day last year as well as watching the start and finish of the race.

Entry forms are available to download at www.penkridge.round-table.co.uk, om The Littleton Arms, Penkridge, from Heather Stern Estate Agents or via e-mail at penkridgefunrun@btinternet.com.

Entry charges for advance registrations up to June 20 are £2 for under-16s, £4 for over-16's and £10 for a family to four.

All times will be recorded and published, and trophies awarded for the winners and runners-up in each school age category from First, Middle and Secondary.

The Geek, the girlfriend and a cycling sensation

HE MAY be a champion cyclist, but to the girlfriend of Wolverhampton's Andy Tennant he is simply "a bit geeky".

He's also "loud and bouncy" says Lauren Bason, 20, who is one of Andy's biggest supporters.

And, like any good Black Country lad, he enjoys nothing better than a night with his mates at his local pub, The Westacres, although for now alcohol is strictly off limits.

Andy, 25, recently returned from Melbourne where he helped the men's pursuit team win gold in the World Cycling Championships.

But he loves nothing better than getting away from the pressures of trying get into the Olympic squad by visiting family in friends in Wolverhampton or relaxing at home in Manchester with Lauren.

The couple met at Wolverhampton Wheelers Cycling Club and have been together for almost four years.

Andy says: "Lauren looks after me basically. She cleans up after me because I'm not the most tidy of people.

"When I'm not training I need to be resting and she is an absolute star.

"Lauren comes to a lot of races. She has been a podium hostess and we have been on the podium together for The Tour of Britain.

"She gives me a kiss well done and I get to spray her with champagne."

Andy's parents also play a big part in his life. Father Ian Tennant, a 56-year-old housing manager at Cannock Chase Council and mother Lynne, 54, a management consultant, still live in Finchfield where he grew up.

Grateful

"I've got a really good relationship with my parents, I'm really close to both of them," says the former Smestow School pupil.

"I'm very grateful for the support they have given me. I owe a great deal to them. They financed my dream.

"My parents get super excited when I am competing. My dad is a nervous wreck. He usually has his eyes closed."

Andy's success is all the more remarkable given that he underwent a heart operation at 14. It was around that time that he met Olympic gold medallist Chris Boardman, an encounter that inspired him to strive for the Olympics himself.

Before joining Wolverhampton Wheelers Andy says he was "a little fat kid" who loved eating sweets and biscuits.

"Cycling started out as a way to help me lose weight and, to be honest, I was absolutely rubbish at first" he says. "But I stuck with it and I started to realise I had a talent for cycling and once the weight dropped off all of a sudden I found myself beating everybody else."

Andy, who is sponsored by BMW dealer Benham Wolverhampton, will find out next month whether he has been selected to represent his country at London 2012.

Lorry was stolen to pay back drug debt

A THIEF from Cheslyn Hay stole a lorry from an industrial estate to pay back a drugs debt, a court heard.

David Biddulph, of Mitre Road, took the tractor unit and trailer from Swadlincote, Derbyshire on March 4.

Two days later he was picked up by police after the tractor unit was identified by automatic number plate recognition technology as it was driven along the A34 in Cannock.

Biddulph ran off, leaving the engine running, at the junction with Broad Lane when he realised he was being followed by officers.

He jumped over fences but was arrested after a resident saw him hiding in her garden and called the police.

Cannock magistrates heard, in his defence, that he was under pressure to take the lorry to settle a cocaine debt. He said he felt intimidated and ran off on the instruction of a passenger who travelled alongside him.

The 24-year-old pleaded guilty to taking a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

He was given a 12-month supervision order with a drug rehabilitation requirement and ordered to pay £360 in fines and costs.

Grandma died after home fall

A GRANDMOTHER-OF-SEVEN suffered a fatal fall two months after moving into a nursing home in Great Wyrley, an inquest heard.

Dorothy Doolan moved into Hornegarth House, Walsall Road, in October because of a history of falls.

She suffered a further nine falls while at the home, the Cannock inquest heard. The last one, on December 14, eventually led to her death on January 7.

The GP had given the cause of death as bronchial pneumonia but this was disputed.

A post mortem showed she had, instead, died from a brain haemorrhage caused by the fall.

The 80-year-old, formerly of Richmond Street, Walsall, had been assessed by staff but senior sister Nicola Steward said it was impossible to stop elderly residents from walking around.

Recording a verdict of accidental death, South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh, sitting at Cannock, said he was satisfied that there were no gross failings by the nursing staff.

GAMING fans can join the latest Warhammer club at Norton Canes Library next weekend.

Suitable for complete beginners, the Warhammer workshop includes painting and playing.

It is free but booking is essential as places are limited and those wishing to attend should bring a packed lunch and wear suitable clothing.

Vet looks to give pet plaque the brush-off

Vet Hamish Duncan brushes five-month-old Stovie's teeth

A GREAT Wyrley veterinary practice will be giving pets something to smile about next month when it celebrates National Dental Care Month.

The 387 Veterinary Centre on Walsall Road will be running free dental health checks for all pets throughout June and dogs will receive a free pack of Pedigree Dentastix after their check-up while stocks last.

"Dental disease is the most commonly occurring condition in pets, affecting more than 80 per cent of cats and dogs over the age of three," said vet Hamish Duncan. "Not only can dental disease be painful, but if bacteria from mouth infections passes into the bloodstream or airways, pets can suffer much greater health issues such as kidney, lung and liver infections."

Healthy

Common signs of disease include bad breath, reluctance to chew, bleeding gums or unwillingness to allow any examination of the mouth. In all cases pets should be examined by a vet. "Plaque build-up is the starting point for most dental diseases so if we can help to prevent plaque formation, we can help to keep our pets' mouths healthy," Hamish added.

"Dental health can be improved in many ways, but the most effective – as in humans –is with brushing. Regular teeth-cleaning as part of a young animal's routine is ideal."

To book a free dental health check and for advice on tooth-bushing and managing dental care through diet call 387 Veterinary Centre on 01922 411755.

Family resubmits its plans for camp close to Hoard site

TRAVELLERS who want to set up camp in a field bordering the Staffordshire Hoard discovery site will find out within a couple of weeks if it can go ahead.

The Maughan family want to live on the site near Hammerwich, which they bought nearly three years ago. They had to resubmit the plans after it was found they had not included all the land they owned on the application form.

Permission will now be considered by Lichfield District Council on Monday, June 11.

by Marion Brennan

The plot was bought at auction by Terry Maughan. He and his family were previously based at the Fishpond Caravan Site in Featherstone but were thrown off the site by Mr Maughan's uncle, according to agents acting on the family's behalf.

They have applied to change the use of the land, on the south side of Watling Street, from agricultural to a site for six mobile homes on four plots with sceptic tanks and utility rooms.

Failed

The application was made by Mr Maughan on behalf of his estranged wife Bernadette Maughan and her sister Anne-Marie.

Planning officer Sue Hodgkinson said the family had failed to include all their land which meant the application, due to have been heard in April, was put back for eight weeks.

But she said the new information did not affect the size of the living area where the caravans will be set up.

Before Christmas the authority had been forced to launch enforcement action when work was carried out to level the ground and re-seed it.

The application has upset residents and metal detecting enthusiast Terry Herbert, whose efforts led to the discovery of the Anglo-Saxon treasure in 2009, because of its proximity to the historic find.

Planning agent Alison Heine, representing the Maughans, said people had been alarmed unnecessarily, insisting this was "not a Dale Farm situation."

Literature fans set to book in at library

BOOK lover can get together for a chat and a cuppa at Rugeley Library next month. Staffordshire County Council's Reading Cafe takes place at the Anson Street venue on Friday, June 22 from 10am to noon.

THE people of Genoa are reported to be furious that their traditional sauce, pesto, is being produced by a firm in Dublin and it's outselling the Italian stuff. I can see this ending up with Brussels ordering the Irish to market their sauce under a different name. How about O'Pest?

THE National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) proposed offering IVF fertility treatment to same-sex couples. In its report, NICE makes no distinction between male and female same-sex couples. How could it? For once you have decided that IVF should be available to lesbian couples, political correctness dictates that it must also be available to gay men. In effect, the state is declaring that it is every man's right to have a baby. This may be a noble aim but it is also a line straight out of Monty Python's Life of Brian (1979) when Stan tells his comrades he wants to become a woman.

Stan: "It's every man's right to have babies if he wants them."

Reg: "But . . . you can't have babies."

Stan: "Don't you oppress me."

Reg: "I'm not oppressing you, Stan. You haven't got a womb! Where's the foetus going to gestate? You going to keep it in a box?"

WAR is a terrible thing yet those who go off to war always come back with some funny stories. Thirty years ago this week Dean Jenkins was a 19-year-old Para from Castlecroft, Wolverhampton. He smiled as he told me the story, some years ago, of that historic moment when the landing-craft ramps went down in the pitch blackness of San Carlos and British warriors set foot on the Falklands. There was a moment of farce as the Royal Marine in charge of the vessel gave an order in Navy-speak and the Paras didn't understand it. As Dean recalled: "The ramp went down and this Marine said, 'troops out'. He said it again, 'troops out'. No-one knew what he meant. Finally, someone said, 'go!' – and we went."

WE have entered a bracing new space age with private companies providing rocket trips to the International Space Station and, in time, to other destinations. How long before we can take a large packing case containing a ticking device to a rocket-despatch office and arrange for it to be lobbed into the centre of Moscow, Tehran or New York?

Cash on the table for village groups

TWO village groups have been handed much-needed funds by Penkridge & District Round Table.

At a the group's tribute night on Saturday, May 26, the organisation presented cheques to Penkridge Middle School and Penkridge Breastfeeding Support Group.

The school, designated as a Specialist School for Science and Mathematics, received a cheque for £2,000 towards the creation of a new sensory room. It hopes to have this facility in place for September and will be the first of its kind in Staffordshire schools.

Sensory rooms promote learning and play through the development of senses and skills, via a range of different techniques including light, colour, and tactile materials.

Round Table chairman Mark Axcell, who handed over the cheque, said: "We are pleased to be supporting Penkridge Middle School in creating this new facility for its pupils. Events like this, organised by Penkridge Round Table, help us raise the funds to be distributed across a range of local good causes."

Penkridge Breastfeeding Support Group received a cheque for £240. The volunteer group provides support and advice to breastfeeding mothers and mothers-to-be in and around the village. The donation will enable them to provide more literature and demonstration equipment and in doing so promote the benefits of breastfeeding.

Mr Axcell said: "Once we became aware of the Penkridge Breastfeeding Support Group the Round Table was keen to support the group."

The tribute night was held at the Peace Memorial Hall in Pinfold Lane and featured renowned covers band Total Recall.

Business owner counts the cost of arson attack

THE owner of a business that was set alight by arsonists last weekend says the attack will end up costing him around £100,000 – double his earlier estimate.

A blaze ripped through RB Windows in Cannock late on Friday night (May 250. Company director Roger Benton says replacing lost stock and repairs will reach twice the amount that he had originally thought.

by Harry Gottschalk

But he praised quick-thinking firefighters for saving the building in Walsall Road, Bridgtown, from complete destruction, saying they were superb.

He said: "The bill is going up to more like £100,000 now. We keep picking stuff up as we go along which has been damaged by the smoke.

"The fire brigade did a magic job.

"They really respected the property and got it all under control rather than having a bish, bash, bosh approach," Mr Benton added.

Household

Two fire crews from Cannock, and two more from Penkridge and Brewood had to tackle the blaze that started at around 11.30pm.

They managed to stop the fire engulfing the entire business, which sells windows, household furniture, doors and conservatories.

The fire started inside a display conservatory on the side of the premises but had started to spread to the main building and internal staircase.

Firefighters had extinguished the inferno by 2.50am.

Mr Benton, 56, of Cheslyn Hay, originally said he has lost around £50,000 in stock having only days ago filled the conservatory with expensive cane furniture.

He says CCTV footage shows a man carrying a petrol can around the back of the building just before the blaze took hold.

He said: "It's hard to tell but it looks like a petrol can in his hands and he disappears from view for around 40 minutes.

"There was also a bit of activity in the car park next door.

Cupcake competition is a highlight of trading days

A BOUNCY castle and a cupcake competition are among the attractions in Penkridge as the village stages two Bank Holiday markets.

The market site, off Wolverhampton Road, will be trading from 9am to 3pm on both Saturday and Monday.

The market will be decorated with traditional bunting as around 70 stallholders sell the wares, including food plants, tools, gifts, toys and soft furnishings.

On the Saturday (June 2) there will be a competition to see who can decorate the best cupcake, with each cupcake then being placed within a giant union jack flag design. The winner will be announced that same afternoon.

On Monday, there will also be a car boot sale, with around 50 sellers expected at £8 per car.

Artwork is crowning glory

Hednesford stamp artist Pete Mason with his latest creation for the Jubilee

ARTIST Peter Mason is hoping for the royal stamp of approval for his latest work – a giant portrait of the Queen as she appears on her own postage stamps.

The retired art teacher's 16ft x 10ft creation uses more than 25,000 Royal Mail stamps and took 10 weeks to complete. It was commissioned by a London shopping centre. It will hang from the balcony, dropping to the ground floor, of Whiteley's Shopping Centre in the Bayswater Road, off Oxford Street.

Pete, who was born in Brownhills and studied at Stafford College of Art, took up the art form after retiring from Kingsmead Technology College in Hednesford.

The postage stamp design, on which the portrait is based, is from a sculpture by the late British sculptor Arnold Machin who used to live in Rugeley.

Four days of fun to celebrate 60 years

FOUR days of Jubilee celebrations in Penkridge kicks off at 11am on Saturday (June 2) with the planting of a commemorative tree in the Haling Dene Centre, Cannock Road.

At noon, the ringing of the St Michael and All Angels' bells will coincide with the start of street parties. The Monckton Recreation Centre in Pinfold Lane will stage a Jubilee quiz at 8pm.

On Sunday at 10am, groups will parade along Market Street for a 10.30am church service. A community big lunch will be served at 1pm at the Haling Dene and the Salvation Army band performs from 2.15pm.

Beacon

A Jubilee fun day from 1-5pm at the Monckton is Monday's highlight. It will be followed by a barbecue and campfire entertainment, PADS production of A Midsummer Night's Dream and a festival of live music and the lighting of a beacon.

The Civic Society's display of past Jubilee celebrations takes place from 10am to 1pm on Tuesday at the old Gaol, with a food and craft fair held at the Market site from 10am to 4pm.

Throughout, the Star, Cross Keys and Boat pubs are hosting a beer festival.

Wardens in taxi service

WARDENS will be on duty over the Jubilee Bank Holiday weekend to make sure revellers needing a taxi get home safely.

Clearly identifiable in high-visibility jackets, the trained and accredited taxi wardens will provide a safe environment for people queuing for licensed cabs at Cannock's High Green rank. They will be linked by radio to the council's CCTV operators and to local police officers.

Wardens will be at the taxi rank between midnight and 4am on Sunday, June 3 and again from 11pm to 3am on Monday.

Brad performs

FREE Saturday night entertainment at a Cannock club will be provided by Brad Francis next weekend. He will perform at St Mary's Club, Hallcourt Lane on June 9. Call 01543 579364 for more details.

Villagers to gather for the Jubilee

CLUBS in a Chase village are gathering to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee. A free family fun day takes place at Norton Canes community centre and playing fields on Monday, June 4.

The event will start at 11am with craft stalls in the Brownhills Road centre and will end at 10.30pm with the lighting of a beacon. The day will also include a parade of kings and queens, a fancy dress competition, a judo display, football tournament and a party in the park with live entertainment.

The women's institute, British Legion and Friends of Norton Canes will all take part in the craft stall, while Norton Canes Flower Club, Darby & Joan, the village historical society, and fun club will also be involved.

Essential

The fun club hosts a street party on June 5 at the community centre with booking essential on 07936 347050, while the Darby & Joan Club stages its own Jubilee party on Wednesday, June 6.

A two-day exhibition at the library, in Burntwood Road, looks back at 300 years of Royal events. Organised by Norton Canes Historical Society, it takes place on June 7 and 8.

Norton Canes Flower Club meets on Wednesday June 20 and will have a Diamond theme.

Town music shop closes

A MUSIC shop in Cannock has shut, with bosses blaming the recession for a decline in trade.

Musically Yours, in Walsall Road, is one of Cannock's oldest shops and has sold a range of guitars, pianos, drums and folk instruments since 1984.

A sign on the door read: "Musically Yours retail shop ceased trading as of May 24, 5.30pm due to ongoing recession.

"We thank all our customers for their support over the last 28 years."

A music school above the shop remains open.

Up, up and away

FOUR tickets to Drayton Manor theme park are up for grabs at a Burntwood school balloon race. The balloons were being released today (Thursday) at Ridgeway Primary School, with the prize going to the owner of the balloon that travels the furthest. The winner will be announced at the school's summer fete on July 7.

End-to-end ride to make a dog's life better

Biker Ben Wilkes and his border collie Reilly

A RUGELEY man is getting on his bike to raise money for an animal charity.

Ben Wilkes, of Colton, is riding his motorbike from John O'Groats to Land's End from July 22 to 23.

En route, he will visit the 13 member organisations of the Association of Dogs and Cats Homes (ADCH), raising awareness of the work of the rescue organisations within the group. Money raised will go to the Border Collie Trust, based in Colton, towards its continuing programme to improve the life of dogs in kennels.

The programme uses the likes of old tree stumps to hide treats, straw bales to hold scent, and even old wine barrels and tyres to make a dog's life better.

An exercise paddock at the Border Collie Trust's rescue centre now features areas of longer grass which dogs love to run through and can also be used to seek out treats.

Challenge

Future plans include the planting of suitable trees and shrubs, different types of pathways and features that challenge and improve a dog's confidence. Ben said: "I am looking forward to the challenge of the well known end-to-end route with the added excitement of including a number of visits in just two days."

The Border Collie Trust GB is one of 340 Kennel Club Breed Rescue organisations across the UK, covering almost every breed of pedigree dog.

Delivery firm's move to new HQ will be sealed on schedule

WORK is gathering pace at the site of a courier firm's new base – as this aerial image captures its massive scale.

APC Overnight is investing £15 million transforming this 12-acre plot at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park in Cannock into a 150,000sq ft distribution hub and excavations to prepare the land for development are well under way.

Operations are due to transfer from the company's existing site, in Warstone Road, Essington, in October. The move is creating 300 jobs – more than doubling the 250-strong workforce.

Sales and marketing manager Steve Salt released the image. He revealed workers had defied wet weather to get the project back on schedule. Scores of diggers can be seen clearing huge mounds of dirt and flattening the land, ready for foundations to be laid and building work to begin.

Mr Salt said: "The groundworks are going on at the moment. Obviously the weather hasn't been too kind to us over the past few weeks but the guys have done a tremendous job and are back on schedule.

"Hopefully this weather now will help us and we are looking at completion in October," he added.

Capacity

APC – which won Business of the Year 2012, in the Express & Star Business Awards – has been running at maximum capacity for the past year and a half, he added. The new facility will double capacity.

Newly installed deputy leader of Staffordshire County Council, Ben Adams, said APC's expansion showed Staffordshire was a "prime location for business".

"Our support for business and red carpet approach to existing and potential investors is a key part of our operation," he said.

APC Overnight has enjoyed record results since the expansion plans were announced.

The parcel delivery giant reported business was up 15 per cent year-on-year in December, delivering 1.5 million packages a month.

The firm announced pre-tax profits of £3.4m for the year – up from £2m last year – and a turnover of £58m.

Bosses were forced to rent out a 40,000sq ft temporary storage warehouse in Cannock town centre to house extra stock over the Christmas season.

Councillor Adams added: "It is great to see building work well under way on the new APC Overnight logistics centre. The company is a national leader in the courier industry and another flagship firm that has chosen to locate here.

"APC Overnight is creating and protecting jobs which is fantastic for Staffordshire. It shouldn't be too long before these jobs are being advertised locally as operations on site could be up and running by the end of the year."

Mr Salt said: "We have been running at maximum capacity in our current hub for over 18 months and the start of works to the new site means that we can look ahead to providing more customers with our first class service and grow APC even further.

"This spells the beginning of a very exciting time for the business."

Kingswood Lakeside was developed by Staffordshire County Council in 2005, transforming it from a former open cast mine into a business park.

Reward on offer after thefts spate at skip firm

BOSSES at a skip hire firm are considering whether to quit the businesses following a string of break-ins over the past four months.

Thieves have struck at least six times at WD Cooper Recycling, leaving the company with £10,000 losses. The latest break-in was discovered last Friday night (May 25).

by Marion Brennan

The raiders took several hundred pounds in cash and company credit cards. They used £1,000 in credit before the bank blocked further payments.

Thieves have also taken a £15,000 lorry, £2,000 of batteries, £2,000 in diesel and stolen two skips from outside customers' homes.

The firm later had to spend more than £400 before the recovered truck could be released.

General manager Andy Aldred discovered the burglary when he arrived at the Bestmore Industrial Estate in Station Road, Hednesford, at 6.30am. The thieves had broken a window and crowbarred open a door to the upstairs office.

Mr Aldred, 38, who has been in the transport business for nearly 20 years, said: "It leaves you wondering whether it's worth carrying on."

Days earlier, skips belonging to the firm were taken from outside customers' homes in Bloxwich and Bagot Lodge, Rugeley.

A heavy goods vehicle was stolen and, although later recovered, the company had to spend £350 plus VAT to retrieve the lorry from a police compound.

The firm also had to spend £4,000 on livery costs after the thieves scraped the company name off the truck.

The company has spent a £2,000 on additional security and police are putting on additional patrols.

The company is offering a cash reward for information which leads to conviction.

Spend money on leisure facilities is leader's call

THE leader of Cannock Chase Council says around £500,000 still sitting in a council bank account should be spent on new leisure facilities across the district.

The authority has been in dispute for years with supermarkert chain Asda about who should keep the cash. Asda paid the money to the council as part of the conditions attached to building its store in Avon Road in 2005. It was intended for an artifical pitch at the old Cannock Stadium

But the stadium was demolished in 2009 and Asda is trying to claim the cash back as the authority had not spent the money within the agreed time limit.

Sorted

Both sides have said they hope to see an end to the dispute soon, with council leader Councillor George Adamson saying he wants to see a conclusion to the saga by the end of year.

Councillor Adamson says he wants to see the cash spent on a number of leisure facilities on the site of the former Cannock Stadium.

"Hopefully it will all be sorted soon and then we can look at using the money from Asda for it," he said.

"There are various funding options we can look at, but it is a project that's not going to happen overnight."

Ball to honour daughter

Mark and Sue Leeson are holding a charity ball in Trudy's memory

THE father of a former beauty queen who died aged 35 is organising a summer ball in her memory.

Trudy Shingler, an ex-Miss Walsall, passed away after a short illness, less than four months after being diagnosed as having a glioma tumour.

Her father Mark, who lives with Trudy's mother Sue in Rugeley, said he was hosting a masked summer ball for the Trudy's Trust which aims to raise awareness of brain tumours. It will be at the Ramada Hotel, Walmley, Sutton Coldfield on June 23.

Trudy, a forensic psychologist, lived with husband Lea and four-year-old son Phoenix in Burton.

Volunters work to tidy up Brindley Bank area

VOLUNTEERS worked to tidy up an area of Rugeley last weekend. The 16-strong work party set out to improve the Brindley Bank area by the Trent and Mersey aqueduct. Sunday's task included uncovering the rest of an historic coal tramway.

Work parties are led by the Inland Waterways Association and supported by Rugeley Lions, the Landor Society, and the town council.

Lib Dem leader is labelled a sore loser

I SAW Lib Dem leader Danny Davies' letter about the local election results. What a sore loser!

Councillor Davies listed some of the achievements of the Lib Dem/Tory coalition that ran Cannock Chase Council until recently.

Here are some of the "achievements" he forgot to mention.

The demolition of our stadium, failing to apply for the Olympic torch to come through our district, scrapping travel tokens for the elderly and disabled, scrapping grass cutting for elderly tenants and planning to charge the disabled to park on council car parks.

Some achievements to be proud of!

He also claims that his party has given Cannock a new leisure centre when it is in fact a refurbishment of the old one. Something else he forgot

GEORGE ADAMSON
Labour Group Leader

Memories sought for park project

FOLLOWING the article entitled 'Call made for park memories' that appeared in The Chronicle on May 17, I should like to add that anyone who has any memories, information or images to share about Hednesford Park and War Memorial should contact me, Julie Shires.

I can be reached by telephoning 01543 877666 or by emailing julieshires@cannockchasedc.gov.uk

We are particularly in need of any photographs, for example ones of family days out in the park or of events or sports or games that were held in the park. Or photos of Remembrance Day processions.

The project team that I belong to at Cannock Chase Council is putting together a bid to the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) and Big Lottery Fund (BLF) to enable a major redevelopment of Hednesford Park.

Some of the grant would also be used to make improvements to Hednesford War Memorial.

As part of the bid, it is essential that we can demonstrate the heritage value of the park and war memorial. Any information, memories or photographs that we can gather from the local community will form a vital part of this work.

Research Officer for Hednesford Park HLF Project

A privilege to serve

I WOULD like to thank all the people of Heath Hayes East and Wimblebury that voted for me in the local election on the May 3. It is an honour and privilege to serve you and the people of Cannock Chase and I really appreciate the trust you have put in me. I will do my very best not to let you down. I would also like to thank everyone that helped with the campaign, especially George Adamson as my agent.

Shoppers are thanked

I AM writing on behalf of the Peacocks store in Rugeley, to personally thank all of our loyal customers for their support over the past few months when the company went through a difficult period. We are delighted that Peacocks has been bought by The Edinburgh Woollen Mill Group and will remain as a Peacocks store. Once again, a big thank you for all of your support and we look forward to welcoming you very soon.

Outlay on appliance not justified

A RECENT report shows the fire service again has no compunctions when it comes to flaunting the ratepayers' hard-earned money.

This time it's the Cannock branch who have purchased an all terrain vehicle (made in Germany) in excess of a quarter of a million pounds to combat bush fires that could endanger the public, property and wildlife.

Over the years the Chase has endured many threats to its wellbeing and even coped with the fires of 1974 and the gales in 1987. The scars have grown over, back to its present beauty.

Is there anybody who can justify this disgraceful extravagance? At best the vehicle is of use for two months max, the remainder will see it in our top-of-the range station (what was wrong with the old one), alongside the other equipment. Why not park this white elephant alongside the green goddess? Now that was value for money.

No calls for end to showjumping

THERE has been a lot of condemnation about the Grand National and why it should be banned after the death of two horses, but I've yet to see anyone suggesting showjumping or the Badminton horse trials suffer the same fate.

I would have thought horses suffer more injuries in the showjumping ring with all the twist and turns the animals are expected to do. And regarding the horse trials, not only is it a test of the horse's staying power but they are urged with great force to jump fences and negotiate steep mounds.

Perhaps because upper class events aren't in the media spotlight as much as the Grand National, the injuries to the horses are kept quiet.

Mystery surrounds presenter departure

WHAT'S the mystery regarding Suzanne Virdee? After many years of gracing our screens conveying the news, we are simply told she will not be signing her contract! If it's a personal reason we must respect that, but the fact we have had no goodbyes from any of the fellow presenters or any acknowledgment from the BBC, leaves me to suspect some hierarchy is involved.

I and many more viewers I suspect would like to thank her and wish her every happiness in whatever her life takes her.

Have a heart plea

British Heart Foundation Volunteers Mark Downes, left, and Jay Howells launch the Little Heart campaign

CHARITY workers in Cannock are appealing for donations as part of their latest fundraising campaign.

The British Heart Foundation, which has a shop in Market Place, is fundraising for its Little Hearts initiative, which helps families of children diagnosed with heart conditions.

The charity says up to 600 children each year nationally are diagnosed as having only half a functioning heart. Without major surgery many of these children would die within days or even hours of birth.

Store manager Mary Barrett said: "People can buy red heart or red jubilee badges through the whole of June. We are also doing a collection service, and people can also pop into the store or donate online at www.bhf.org.uk."

Councillor in move to ease quarry fears of residents

A COUNCILLOR has moved to allay the fears of residents living next to a controversial quarry which has been reactivated after 15 years of lying dormant.

Councillor Mac Harris said planning permission went back to 1956 and was valid until completion or 2042. He said the Cheslyn Hay community was powerless to oppose it.

Under new conditions, lorries are barred from coming into the village and, in fact, the operators had done more than asked to address residents' complaints, Councillor Harris said.

Concerns have been raised about noise, dust and access to and from the site at Campions Wood.

Councillor Harris said: "The reactivation of this site is far from welcome and will cause some disruption but we are stuck with it.

Distance

"However all HGV movements must access and egress the site via Wolverhampton Road from the A462 Warstone Road and vehicles must turn left when exiting from the site.

"Our schools are a considerable distance away and, as a long serving governor at Cheslyn Hay Sports and Community High, I wish to reassure parents that reactivation of this site should cause no adverse effects."

by Marion Brennan

He warned the worst effects would be felt on Wolverhampton Road, Hollybush, although strict conditions have been imposed on wheel washing facilities and the operator has installed more than requested.

"Personally I have made representation to the owner to retain the buffer woodland areas at the northern edge," said Councillor Harris.

"I believe that all possible has been done to prevent a repeat of our past experiences. Now we need to ensure the operators abide by the new conditions."

Billy Walker made his Pitmen debut at the age of 14

Prolific Norman Whitfield scored a record 39 in a season

26-goal Charlie Wood was also a keen boxer

Pitmen left behind for stab at league football

LEFT-FOOTERS is this week's focus of Hednesford Town players who made the grade at Football League level.

MEMORY LANE

by Dave Shaw

Spindly 14-year-old Billy Walker made the first of his 34 appearances for Hednesford Town in August 1911 and was paid 2/9d (13p) expenses each game. Playing at inside-left, he went on to represent England 18 times and captained Aston Villa, playing 536 games and scoring a record 244 goals.

As a manager, Billy guided Sheffield Wednesday to FA Cup victory in 1935 and, in a 21-year spell led Nottingham Forest from Division Three to Division One and to FA Cup glory in 1959.

Bustling, stocky little Charlie Crossley replaced Billy as inside-left, staying for a season before transferring to Walsall, only to be shipped out to First Division Sunderland without playing a single game. During World War One, Charlie was a stoker on a submarine destroyer and guested for Tottenham, Orient, Huddersfield and Hednesford.

In 1920, he moved to Goodison and topped Everton's goalscoring list in his first season. By 1922, Charlie was helping West Ham win promotion to the First Division, later joining Swindon.

When normal football resumed after WW1, Jim Lyons and his left foot helped to shoot Hednesford into the FA Cup first round proper, transferring to First Division Derby County soon afterwards.

This heralded the arrival of Leicester City's inside-left, Norman Whitfield to play alongside legendary 'Tosh' Griffiths. Noman ended his first season with 27 league goals and 'Tosh' 30. In his second, 'Tosh' again got 30, but Norman managed 39 – still a club record. With the club having to 'sell to survive', Norman joined Third Division Chesterfield in 1922, scoring 66 goals in 131 outings in a five-year stint.

Two-years later, Charlie Wood was occupying the inside-left spot, scoring 26 goals in his only season at The Keys.

Those goals helped Charlie, also a keen boxer, to earn him a junior international cap and one of the goals in a 5-1 victory against Scotland in April 1926. He transferred to Portsmouth in August 1927.

Harry Lane joined Hednesford in 1929, transferring to Division One Birmingham City only months later. In 1933, he hit two goals on his Southend debut, becoming the club's leading scorer in the 1935-36 season.

With 58 goals in 177 games, Harry left for Plymouth, adding a further 50 games to his CV before war intervened again. He joined Southend again in 1946, retiring after a 297-game career.

Bank on chef to have his chilli rivals in a spin

Chef Alistair Campbell celebrates winning the chilli cook-off at the bank bar and lounge in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock

IT was a family affair as a Cannock chef proved his chilli was hot stuff.

Alistair Campbell put his own spin on a traditional dish to win a cook-off at the bank bar and lounge in Wolverhampton Road – the pub where he plies his trade.

The 30-year-old was one of nine entrants in the chilli cook-off arranged by bar owner Alastair Payne. In a blind taste test, judges named the chef's dish as the winner. His mother Heather came third with her vegetarian creation.

A panel made up of former Masterchef quarter-finalist Mat Davis – a one-time bank bar chef - Cannock & Rugeley Chronicle editor Mark Shipp and Emma Farmer, from the Wolverhampton magazine, were asked to judge the chillies on taste and originality. Pubgoers also had the chance to try out the chefs' creations.

Third-placed Heather received a bottle of wine with runner-up Neil Booker, of Cannock, collecting a bar voucher. The winner was awarded a bottle of champagne and a trophy.

It was the second chilli cook-off held at the bar, which also staged a curry challenge and a pudding contest in the past.

The winner, who created what he described as a 'traditional New Mexico beef chilli, said it was the first time he had ever made such a dish.

Bar owner Alastair Payne said: "It went really well. It was a blind taste test so the fact that our own chef won shows the quality of food we have on offer here."

Gym numbers on rise

Renewed witness plea over assault on driver

POLICE have made a fresh appeal for witnesses following an assault on a 72-year-old driver in Cannock.

The motorist was punched in the face by a van driver after an accident on the A34 Ringway near Cannock town centre.

The white van, partial index BX54, was in collision with the victim's red Citroen C3 between 4.10pm and 4.15pm on May 1. After the collision, the van driver got out of his vehicle and punched the Citroen driver, who is from Great Wyrley, in the face. He suffered minor injuries.

The van driver then drove off. He is described as white and slim, aged in his late 30s, around 6ft tall and with a shaved head. Witnesses are urged to call Staffordshire Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Charity climbdown

Burntwood's Charlotte Evans all smiles after her abseil

A BURNTWOOD student joined a host of superheroes to climb down a building for charity.

Charlotte Evans, aged 24, was one of a number of people taking part in the 120ft abseil to raise money for Acorns Children's Hospice. The event was held on Sunday (May 20) to celebrate Children's Hospice Week and saw.

Participants made the drop down the House of Fraser building in Birmingham city centre and had a superhero theme to celebrate the strength and fighting spirit of children that have a life-limiting condition. Many dressed as superheroes to raise much-needed funds.

Charlotte Evans, aged 24, of Burntwood, who is training to be a barrister, said afterwards: "It's the best thing I've ever done. It's good to know that the money I raised is going to such a good cause."

Her mum Pauline Evans was there to support her.

Philippa Gay, Acorns' major events officer, said: "It is wonderful that our 'hero' supporters, took the courage and came out to support Acorns' children. Their efforts are such an encouragement."

Clothes con pair in pay-back order

FRAUDSTERS will be made to pay back thousands of pounds after running a £1m clothes racket while selling a Cannock charity's cheap designer gear at inflated prices .

Hayley and Keith Horton pawned counterfeit clothing which cost the industry more than £1m, while also buying cheap genuine designer outfits from the Newlife charity.

by Alex Homer

The couple had been selling the clothes on internet site ebay as real, making a huge profit.

Hayley Horton, aged 40, was handed a 27-month jail sentence in March as the brains behind Wags Classy Rags. Her husband Keith, 46, was jailed for 21 months.

Costs

The couple, of Harborne Road, Oldbury, will now be ordered to repay the costs of the investigation and lawyers' bills which built up ahead of their prosecution.

The investigation by an undercover trading standards officer was £21,600.

That will be added to legal bills which are thought to run into tens of thousands. The pair – who have a two-bed apartment in Estepona, Spain, and a plot of land in Brazil – each entered written guilty pleas to seven charges of possessing counterfeit material, one of selling counterfeit material and five of money laundering.

The application for the pair to repay investigation costs will be made under powers from the Proceeds of Crime Act. All their ill-gotten gains, including any property bought with the fraud proceeds, will be seized.

Runaway car hits house

AN empty car caused damage to a house in Hednesford when it rolled into a bay window. The blue Peugeot crashed into the property in Pendle Hill on Tuesday, May 22. It had been parked on a drive on the same road. Police said it was unclear how the incident had happened.

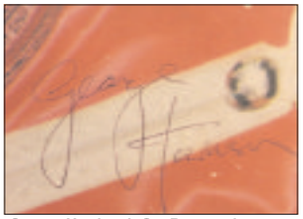
Prized album under hammer



George Harrison's Sgt Pepper signature

John Lennon's monicker on the record

The Fab Four on the signed St Pepper album that is going up for auction

Paul McCartney's autograph on the album

Drummer Ringo also signed the album

A RARE signed copy of the Beatles Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band is being auctioned by a Cannock firm in a live internet sale in New York.

The 1967 album has been autographed by all the Fab Four and has a reserve price of £40,000. It is one of only five in existence in the UK.

Also going under the hammer tomorrow (Friday) is an original artwork by iconic artist Roger Dean, commissioned by 1970s rock band Yes, believed to be worth at least £125,000.

Andy Twelvetree, of Hednesford-based Rock Pop Auctioneers, said: "Both items are extremely rare.

Genuine

A census of known signed Sgt Pepper albums carried out by Autograph Magazine in 2011 revealed only five UK releases accepted as genuine and only one US release. Just 132 are known to exist in the world.

"Ignoring the investment potential, this is a real catch for Beatles' collectors. The Roger Deans original will appeal to both Yes fans and art enthusiasts."

He added: "Unfortunately we just deal with the sales. We don't get to handle the items themselves, which is a great pity."

The Sgt Pepper album on the Capitol label was autographed in the year the record was released.

Fears raised as housing bid in Green Belt revived

CONTROVERSIAL plans to rip up acres of green belt land in Norton Canes to make way for 130 homes have been revived.

Council bosses said the sprawling development would transform eyesore land and help the region meet Government targets for housing.

But fears have been raised that the development would lead to extra traffic and would see Green Belt land lost. Plans for the site were originally submitted last year but later withdrawn amid opposition from residents.

Council planning bosses have received nine representations with six objecting to the plans. Concerns are over limited medical practices and schools, extra traffic and loss of the green belt.

Despite the concerns officers were recommending members of Cannock's planning committee give it the go ahead. The proposals were being discussed at meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

Facilities

If approved, it will still have to go before the Government Office for the West Midlands.

The site – adjacent to the south-eastern edge of Norton Canes and adjoining Chasewater Country Park to the east – is 20 acres in size.

Developers have agreed to provide community facilities as part of the bid. Part of the agreement will include a contribution of £50,000 for highways improvements, provision of play areas, and money towards indoor and outdoor recreation sport.

The plans for the homes are part of the district's future housing need and council chiefs believe they would help to transform the site visually.

Harris delivers ad idea

Design an Ad competition winner Harris McDonald, aged 10, from St Luke's Primary, with, left, Emma Bloomer and Steve Salt from APC

A CANNOCK pupil will see one of his drawings on display at a delivery firm's new headquarters.

Harris McDonald, aged 10, from St Luke's Primary School in New Penkridge Road, took part in a Design an ad competition, run by The Chronicle's sister paper the Express & Star.

Pupils drew various pictures with a winner chosen out by the company.

The winning design will go on show at the firm's new Cannock base at Kingswood Lakeside.

Emma Bloomer from APC said: "The school designed some great pictures for APC and then we picked the best one.

"The winning picture was an APC Overnight logo and it had the words "The Best" underneath it."

The overall winner will be revealed at a ceremony at the Mount Hotel in Tettenhall in July.

Councillors to give out help at surgery

LABOUR councillors in Burntwood are hosting an advice surgery this weekend, with the Pool Road closure at Chasewater among the topics being discussed.

The town and district councillors can also answer questions on the £50,000 available for Burntwood businesses through the Government's High Street Innovation Fund.

The surgery is being held at the library, at Sankey's Corner from 10-11am on Saturday (June 2). The councillors will also be able to help with potholes and flooding as well as planning and housing matters. No appointment is necessary.

Curry-nation treat

Head waiter Shabul Miah and manager Islam Uddin with the Jubilee curries on the menu at the Dilshad

AN award-winning Cannock restaurant has named four curry dishes in honour of the Queen as she celebrates her Diamond Jubilee.

The Dilshad, in Cannock Road,Chadsmoor, is hosting five days of Jubilee celebrations from June 1 to 5 and will be serving up a jubilee jalfrezi, diamond dupiaza, ceylon coronation and monarch masala.

Anyone who orders any of the four special curries will receive a free starter or dessert of their choice.

On the Queen's Diamond Jubilee (June 5) customers are being encouraged to join in the fun and come into the restaurant wearing something patriotic including hats, clothing, jewellery or simply waving a Union flag. Anyone who does so will receive a free drink.

Owner Tony Uddin said: "All of the staff are really looking forward to a very special five days of celebrations. We want people to come in to the restaurant and really soak up the atmosphere."

Housing bid for disabled lodged

A HOUSING complex for people with disabilities could be built in Cannock under plans submitted by the Bilston-based Heantun Housing Association.

The association wants to create a huge accommodation block on vacant land off Woodside Place.

by Harry Gottschalk

The seven-unit supported living development would consist of six one-bedroom flats, a bungalow and a two-bedroom "resource flat."

The new accommodation block would provide accommodation for people who need supported living and would sit on the site of a former garage courtyard.

A planning document sent to Cannock Chase Council says the building would cover an overall area of almost 12,000 sq ft.

The planning statement says: "The development has been designed to sensitively respond to the surrounding context, the site conditions and the opportunities the site provides, together with meeting the specific needs of the proposed client group and delivering a safe and secure supported living residential environment."

The site is bounded by Cavan's Wood to the west and is next to the Woodside Place estate.

The applicants say the there will be parking space for six cars and seven bicycles.

Bunting boost for hotel

STAFF at a Cannock hotel roped in some little helpers for its Jubilee festivities. The Ramada, at Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown needed bunting and thought their neighbours at Happy Tots Nursery could help. The hotel provided the nursery with sheets of paper, and the little ones transformed the pages into brightly coloured bunting, by sponging on patterns and doing handprints in red, white and blue paint. Some of the children delivered the bunting to the Ramada and were thanked for their efforts by sales administrator Judith Gallagher.

Thank you letter to the Queen from parishioners

PARISHIONERS are invited to join in with the Diamond Jubilee celebrations at Cannock's town centre church.

The celebrations begin on Saturday, June 2 at 11am with a concert featuring two of St Luke's Church's young organists. Entry is free.

Lunch will follow from noon in the church centre. At 2pm the St Luke's bell ringers are ringing a special quarter peal to celebrate the Queen's Reign.

The celebrations conclude on Sunday June 3 with a Jubilee Service at 10am.

During the weekend, churchgoers are also invited to sign the "Big Thank You" letter which will be sent via the Lichfield Diocese to the Queen.

A story of survival

Spiritualist author Alison Ward (seated) with Carl Ward, Hayleigh Pavier, Gareth Evans, Alison Cornwall, Gail Allport and Holistic Hut manager Sarah Cornwall (front)

A SPIRITUALIST was on hand to sign copies of her book which tells of how she has turned her life around.

Angel Alison Ward signed copies of Awarded by Angels at the book launch in Rugeley. The 47-year-old, of Solihull, gave a talk on the book at Holistic Hut, in Albion Street, and later offered guidance sessions.

Mrs Ward has also been invited to appear on a cable television chat show where people share their real-life stories.

The mother-of-two said: "It's a true story. It's about surviving a near death experience through violence from a former partner. It explains how I recognised I was a victim and had a spiritual awakening."

The book, published by Live It Publishing, costs £14.99 and is available online from Amazon, Waterstones and WHSmith. For more details, visit www.awardedbyangels.com

Stadium retains use as sport site

COUNCIL bosses say they have already been inundated with interest after agreeing to retain Cannock's former stadium site for use by sports clubs.

The land will be designated as public open space after a motion tabled by council leader George Adamson secured a clear majority.

by Mark Mudie

A challenge from Conservative councillor Paul Snape calling for some housing to be built alongside sports pitches was defeated.

Councillor Adamson said junior and senior football teams, as well as athletics clubs, were keen to move there. Changing rooms will be installed and football pitches improved at the Pye Green Road site once funding is secured.

Councillor Snape won support from his fellow Tories but could not persuade any of the ruling Labour group to back his amendment. Councillor Adamson's motion carried by 24 votes to three, with 13 members abstaining.

He said: "This is the only area of open land in the whole of Cannock north so we are determined to retain it for recreational and sporting uses.

"This honours one of our main election manifesto commitments and a report will go to cabinet about what happens next."

He added: "We have had contact from various people already that want to move onto the stadium site."

Car crash victim named

A MAN who died in a car accident has been named by police. Neil Lees, aged 33, of Lovett Court, Rugeley, was driving along Brindley Road in Hednesford when his Mitsubishi Shogun overturned and left the road on May 22, landing in a ditch. A woman passenger was airlifted to hospital but was later released from hospital.

Relief as demolition of former care home starts

DEMOLITION work has begun at a former residential home in Cannock – to the delight of neighbours.

Work by Staffordshire County Council to demolish Langbourn House on Longford Road finally began this week.

The home had closed in 2009, but although the buildings had been secured, the site had become a haven for vandals, anti-social behaviour and metal theft.

Work was delayed when it was discovered a colony of bats had set up home in the building. Now with the bats safe in alternative accommodation, work can take place.

Sarah Giles, who lives in Langdale Drive, opposite the site, said: "I'm really pleased that the building is being demolished. In the past few months it has become a bit of an eyesore and has attracted a lot of anti-social behaviour. I think it's really good that the site is being developed."

Mark Green, of nearby Clifton Avenue, said: "I welcome the development as it was attracting some anti-social behaviour.

"I've had a few local residents tell me that something needs to be done, so the fact that work is starting really good news."

County Councillor Pat Corfield, member for Cannock town centre, said: "I am pleased that demolition works can now begin. All bat species are legally protected, meaning the discovery of a roost in Langbourn House caused significant delays to the project.

"I understand residents' frustrations at the delays but it was essential that we did everything possible to protect the bats."

Jubilee party at church

A BURNTWOOD church is to host a Diamond Jubilee party next Tuesday (June 5). It starts at 12.30pm at Emmanuel Church, in Cannock Road. For more information call 01543 672252.

David Jeffries-Tipton leaving Cannock court wearing a red skirt and blouse

Accused gives his name and a dress

A MAN wore a skirt and blouse in front of magistrates after being told he could not wear shorts in court.

David Jeffries-Tipton went out and bought the ladies clothes from a charity shop in protest after he was told he was not dressed appropriately when he arrived at Cannock court on Monday.

Wearing a red floral skirt and light coloured silk blouse, the 47-year-old still had his trial heard and magistrates made no reference to his attire.

Jeffries-Tipton was charged with criminal damage to a dog basket and a flat-screen TV after going to see his ex-girlfriend, licensee Karen Griggs at the Langtry's pub in Stone.

He had denied the TV charge and was acquitted but admitted damaging the dog basket. A report will be compiled and he will reappear in court on June 20. He was given bail.

Tears as jury clears driver charged with causing death

A WOMAN accused of causing death by careless broke down after being cleared by jurors. Kylie Jones was acquitted over the death of great-grandmother Kathleen Radford.

Mrs Radford, aged 72, from Wimblebury, was a well-known former social club landlady. She suffered fatal injuries when she was struck by Jones's Audi last February just around the corner from her home.

Kathleen Radford

The accident happened yards away from where Jones lived in John Street.

Mrs Radford was on her way home from visiting her son David, who also lives in John Street, and was crossing the road as Jones's Audi hit her.

Jones, aged 26, had denied causing Mrs Radford's death by careless driving.

She told police: "I did everything I could to avoid hitting that lady.

Spare

"When I saw her, she was already in the road. If there was anything else I could have done to avoid hitting her, I would have done it."

The jury at Stafford Crown Court heard Jones had only gone out in her car on the night of the fatal accident because her husband-to-be had locked his keys in his car at work and she had gone to take him the spare set.

There was no evidence that she was driving in excess of the 30mph speed limit.

Exercise kit given out in prize draw

A CANNOCK woman won a healthy £50 worth of exercise and walking kit in a prize draw.

The draw was organised by Age UK South Staffordshire, as part of a promotion to encourage people to join its Live Life, Live Younger fitness and walking programme, funded through the Coalfields Regeneration Trust.

Veronica Miller collected first prize from Asda community champion Debbie Blair and Age UK marketing co-ordinator Elizabeth Marginson.

Runners-up prizes included a basket of fruit, water bottle, walking gloves and walking pole.

Age UK South Staffordshire has a programme of more than 30 walks, fronted by trained volunteer leaders. New walkers can just turn up at the meeting point, and all walks are free. Walks are suitable from anyone from aged 14 and up, though under-16s must be accompanied by an adult.

Summer bash to aid charity

DIRTY Dancing the stage show will be the highlight of a summer ball at a Cannock bar next month.

The annual charity bash takes place at the Premier Suite in High Green on July 14 from 7.30pm.

Tickets are price at £55 including a champagne reception, with entertainment also coming from comedian Andy Rudge and live band the Anthems.

Master of Ceremonies will be TV host Bob Hall and a six-course meal will be served. Call 01543 572092 to book.

Motorist cut free as car ends up in field

A DRIVER was seriously injured after his car rolled over into a field in Penkridge.

The crash occurred on the A449, Wolverhampton Road, near Gailey Island, at around 6pm on Saturday (May 26). An ambulance, a rapid response vehicle, a paramedic officer and the Midlands Air Ambulance from Cosford attended.

The driver, believed to be in his 40's, suffered serious head and chest injuries and was trapped in the vehicle. He was extricated and received emergency treatment at the scene.

"The man's condition was stabilised and he was transferred by land ambulance to New Cross Hospital for further emergency treatment," said an ambulance service spokesman.

Company director's top award

THE CHIEF executive of Cannock-based Briggs Equipment has been presented with a top prize at the annual West Midlands branch of the Institute of Directors' awards.

Richard Close runs materials handling supplier Briggs Equipment and won the director of the year in the large company category.

His award was presented by category sponsor Neil Burton, sales director at Web Spiders at a breakfast ceremony held at Warwickshire County Cricket Club.

Mr Close joined Briggs in 2006 when the company was experiencing a multi-million loss and is credited with turning around its fortunes.

He led Briggs to a ten-fold profit increase year-on-year from 2010 to 2011, with annual record profits of £3m.

The West Midlands judges were particularly impressed with his management style, commitment to his staff and passion for customer service.

"It is a real honour to receive this award and acknowledgement from such an esteemed organisation," said Mr Close.

Ticket to bride as couple tie knot with 'Love Bus'

Newlyweds Mr & Mrs Webb climb aboard their Lovebus

LOVEBIRDS Fiona and Jason Webb tied the knot – but with a twist – after being given their very own 'ticket to love' from Arriva.

The newlyweds, who were married at The Barns Hotel in Cannock on May 25, had a day to remember after receiving their very own 'Love Bus' from the company.

The couple, who have made their marital home in Walsall, received the novel gift after responding to a national appeal by Arriva for couples to get in touch. The company was looking for that special couple who had got engaged on Valentine's Day this year.

Decked out with wedding decorations and a celebratory hamper for the bride and groom, the bus escorted guests to the wedding venue before whisking the happy couple away for their very own Lovebus tour.

Significance

Fiona Webb said: "All of our guests loved the bus and we even managed to squeeze in our own romantic trip aboard after the wedding ceremony. It's been such a special day for both of us and the Lovebus has really topped it all off"

Keith Myatt, Communications and Media Relations Manager for Arriva Midlands, said: "We were only too happy to provide the local couple with their very own wedding bus for the day.

"We know that for many people, the bus holds particular significance in their relationship, whether it's where they first met their other half or how couples travelled to see each other during their courting days.

"We are committed to providing the best possible service to our customers and were delighted to help make Fiona's and Jason's special day even more memorable by providing them with their very own wedding bus."

Latest club for jobless to be launched in village

A NEW work club will launch for jobseekers in Great Wyrley from next week.

The free to join work club will meet for the first time from 2-4pm on Friday, June 8 at Harrisons Sports and Social Club in Wharwell Lane.

It becomes the eighth club in South Staffordshire to open after similar ventures in Codsall, Bilbrook, Wombourne, Perton, Huntington and Featherstone all opened last year. A club in Essington also opened in January this year.

Each club is staffed by employment experts ready to advise people how to get back into work. Job seekers also receive tips on preparing CVs, filling in online applications, covering letters and interview techniques.

Tuning up for final

French horn player Laura Anderson, of Kingsmead

A HEDNESFORD student hopes her performance in a county competition will be music to the ears of judges. Laura Anderson, a Year 11 student at Kingsmead Technology College, is the only student from the Cannock area to reach the final of the Staffordshire Young Musician of the Year award.

The competition is open to young people aged 18 and under, who are of Grade 6 or above standard. Some 40 students auditioned in all with 11 chosen for the final on July 14.

Laura, aged 16, is the only French horn player to qualify for the final, which will take place at Staffordshire Performing Arts Centre.

A school spokesman said: "We are delighted that Laura was one of the 11 chosen and we wish her all the best."

Decision on £6m plans at college

PLANS for a proposed £6m redevelopment of South Staffordshire College which aims to soften its "institutional" appearance were being debated this week.

Officers at Cannock Chase Council were yesterday (Wednesday) advising members of the authority's planning committee to approve the development at a meeting.

by Mark Mudie

Under the proposals a glass-roofed atrium will be installed at the centre of the Cannock campus at The Green – a former mining college. Extensions housing staircases will be added.

Bosses want to create a lighter, more modern learning environment.

Benefits

The college would contribute £4m of its own funds to the project while the Government's Skills Funding Agency would provide the remaining £2m.

Officers, recommending approval, say the development will "help safeguard the presence of the college in Cannock, which results in wider benefits for Cannock town centre".

The college's director of commercial operations, Michelle Dowse, said the redevelopment would secure its status at the heart of education in the county.

"South Staffordshire College has gained a great reputation since its formation in 2009," she said.

If plans were approved, it is planned for work to get under way in the summer.

Teen thief faces sentence

A TEENAGE thief from Cannock stole a 42in flat screen TV and gold jewellery in a break-in in Calf Heath, a court heard. Bradley Smith also stole £900 of tools and metal from a garden shed in Gresham Road, Cannock. At Cannock magistrates court last week, the 18-year-old, of Cemetery Road, pleaded guilty to the raids, on March 23 and between January 29 and February 2 respectively. Smith was committed to crown court for sentence.

Volunteers chip in for office revamp

THIRTEEN volunteers from Burntwood's npower's offices gave up their day job to revamp a Lichfield office.

The team donned jeans, boots and gloves to carry out the refit at Lichfield's Family Justice Centre in Upper St John Street.

The building is attached to Pathway's Hope Centre, where victims of domestic or sexual abuse can find help and support from 36 agencies an one place.

Centre manager Kathy Bryers said she was delighted with the response. She said: "We wanted to make the entrance to our building as warm and welcoming as possible.

We are tucked behind the Pathway Project building and knew we could do with a clean, crisp first impression with moss and stones cleared away and doors and windows glossed.

"We thought it would be lovely to have some colourful plants and were delighted when npower said it would contribute £150 so we could buy what we needed."

Volunteer team leader Jenny Knowles, was happy with the results. She said: "This is a fantastic way of developing leadership and teambuilding skills and gives something back to our community. Getting away from our desks has given us all perspective and, in this case, a physical challenge, too."

Roll out the barrel for 10th anniversary show

Sussie Arvesen is one half of Roll Out the Barrel as the show marks its 10th anniversary at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre on June 13

THEATREGOERS will be singing all the way home as they celebrate 10 years of a popular show.

Roll Out The Barrel has been delighting audiences for a decade and as part of its anniversary celebrations makes a welcome return to Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre.

The mix of memories and music is put together by Sussie Arvesen and Terry Bradford and features a feast of more than 65 well-known tunes.

The show takes place on Wednesday, June 13 from 2.30pm, with tickets priced at £12.50 or £11 concessions.

June looks to be a popular one at the Church Street centre as Cornish comic Jethro, 60s band Herman's Hermits and Joe Longthorne all entertain.

The month also features a Frankie Valli tribute in Let's Hang On, Desperado recreate The Eagles' Hell Freezes Over tour, while the Bon Jovi Experience perform some of the New Jersey rockers' biggest hits such as You Give Love a Bad Name, Keep the Faith and Livin' On a Prayer.

Hydesville Tower School in conjunction with Ambient Night Productions present Disney's Aristocats, while the Annabel Humpage Academy of Dance demonstrates the likes of tap, ballet and disco in Showtime.

For more details and ticket prices, call the Prince of Wales Centre box office on 01543 578762.

The three-parter will also feature young performers from TrEAD, the stage school based at Littleton Green School. Curtain goes up at 7.30pm. Tickets are £6 or £5 concessions from 01889 584036 or at www.towerplayers.co.uk

Read the Bible TODAY

What can God do for you?

Your peace of mind -

We all have many worries, which we have to deal with every day, but often, we feel that it is a struggle to cope. The Bible tells us that we can take all our cares to God in prayer and that He will listen to us. It also assures us that God understands our difficulties and that He offers us help through Jesus, who has himself, experienced every aspect of human life. In the Bible, we can find out about God's coming kingdom when our worries will cease. Meanwhile, if we trust God and dedicate our lives to Him, we can gain peace of mind now and have great hope for the future.

Isaiah chapter 26 and verse 3: You will keep him in perfect peace, Whose mind is stayed on You, Because he trusts in You. (NKJV)

Get the 'Jubeelee' buzz by adopting an insect

NATURE lovers can celebrate The Queen's 60-year reign by adopting a 'Jubeelee' bee at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust.

The conservation charity is launching its 'Adopt a bee for the Jubeelee' campaign during its free Wild Bee Weekend at its Wolseley Centre HQ on June 2 and 3.

For £5, adoptees will receive a bee bug, stickers and a packet of bee-friendly wildflower seeds to attract bees to their garden. All proceeds will go towards the trust's work.

The adoption campaign runs throughout June and Wolseley Centre receptionist Catherine McDonald said: "By adopting a bee you can help Staffordshire Wildlife Trust to protect these precious pollinators."

Call 01889 880100 for more details on how to adopt a bee.

New chairman will not take any prisoners

New Cannock chase District Council chairman Bob Todd and vice chairman Doris Grice

THE new Chairman of Cannock Chase Council won't take any nonsense when he presides over meetings during the next 12 months – he was a prison warder for 24 years.

Councillor Bob Todd was named chairman for 2012/13 at the council's annual meeting on May 23, with the Hednesford Green Heath councillor, aged 69, taking on the chain of office from John Beddows.

Councillor Todd was born in Kirkcaldy, Scotland before heading to England in 1963, first to Wolverhampton, then on to Birmingham and finally settling in Cannock Chase in 1981. He spent 24 years as a prison warder before devoting himself to the local community.

He was first elected to Cannock Chase Council in 1984 and has served the district on a number of occasions over the last 28 years, including a previous stint as chairman in 2000-01.

Councillor Todd's nominated charities are Cancer Research UK and Mencap and a number of fundraising events will be held over his term of office, including the chairman's charity ball.

Councillor Todd's consort will be his wife and fellow Cannock Chase councillor Diane Todd, with Councillor Doris Grice the vice-chairman.

Money

The new chairman said: "It's a privilege to be representing the district again as chairman of Cannock Chase Council.

"I hope to raise as much money as I possibly can for my two chosen charities, which do so much good work in Cannock Chase and across the country.

"I'm looking forward to meeting lots of people during official engagements over the next 12 months and doing all I can to let everyone know what a great place Cannock Chase is."

It's paper view as origami creations to float on pool

FAMILIES can try their hand at origami in a workshop at Chasewater Country Park next weekend. Lichfield District Council's rangers are hosting the sessions in the boat sheds from 10am to noon and 2-5pm on Saturday, June 10 in readiness for the Olympic torch relay at the end of the month.

Participants can make and decorate origami flowers out of waterproof paper. All creations will be floated on Minster Pool as part of a candlelit display on June 30.

The origami workshops are free and all materials will be provided. They are open to all ages, but children under eight must be accompanied by an adult. For more information call 01543 370607 or email chasewater@lichfielddc.gov.uk

Pub closes in row over money owed to brewery

A PUB near Rugeley has closed following a dispute between brewery bosses and the tenant.

The Red Lion in Longdon Green closed after Mike Blades said Enterprise Inns were asking him to pay a large amount of money he did not owe.

The 49-year-old disputes the amount of money owed to Enterprise Inns. He says he has been asked for £17,000. Mr Blades, who lives above the pub, has been tenant at the pub since July last year.

He said: "The pub was pretty much on its knees when I took it over. I spent a lot of the winter putting a lot into it."

"We've had ups and downs with Enterprise Inns. I speak to them every week," he added.

Mr Blades accepts he owes some money to them but nowhere near the £17,000 figure he claims he has been asked to pay concerning the pub in Hay Lane.

Contents

He also said he had left messages with credit control over what he could pay but said he did not manage to get hold of anyone.

"One Tuesday I was shopping at Tesco and a member of staff rang to say there were bailiffs there threatening to remove all contents of the pub," Mr Blades said. "When I got back I was presented with a piece of paper to say I was in debt to the tune of £17,000.

"That makes no sense whatsoever. It shows that every month I was behind with my rent which just cannot have happened.

"For them to say I have not been paying rent is ridiculous. I owe them some but not that amount.

"All pubs owe their brewery because there is always a one or two week debt trade.

"I am waiting for dialogue from them."

An Enterprise Inns spokesman, said: "We have been working extensively to resolve matters."

Mike Blades, pub boss at the Red Lion at Longdon Green

Chance to run historic village inn

COUPLES with a dream of running their own pub are being offered the chance to take over a 250-year-old village inn. Punch Taverns is holding an open day at The Swan with Two Necks in Longdon, near Rugeley, next month.

The pub has just closed its for the second time in six months after a rescue bid by a local businessman failed. He said the pub was losing £2,000 a week.

Punch Taverns are planning to spend £190,000 on revamping the venue which first opened as an inn in 1755.

They describe it as "an upmarket local with a great cask ale history".

The Swan With Two Necks has been in the Good Beer Guide for 22 years in a row, including the 2012 edition.

Bosses have a "substantial refurbishment spend" planned for the site, to include full internal decoration, additional retail space, a new bar and an improved entrance.

The open event, to be held at Brook End pub on June 20, will also include opportunities at other pubs in Staffordshire.

Punch recruitment manager Alyson Swann said: "We are constantly looking for innovative and creative people we can work in partnership with to build successful, sustainable businesses in our core estate of high quality pubs. Our licensees have come from a variety of backgrounds."

Summertime and living is not easy in township opera

THE Gershwins' simmering American black opera Porgy and Bess is being staged by Cape Town Opera on their first visit to Birmingham Hippodrome.

Connie in New York homage

Wonderful Town, Birmingham Hippodrome

CONNIE Fisher is best known as the nation's Maria, after being chosen by TV vote to star in the revival of The Sound of Music.

Six years later in this half-forgotten 60-year-old Leonard Bernstein musical she brilliantly reinvents herself as a zany leading lady in the wisecracking style of Lucille Ball or Rosalind Russell.

She plays a struggling journalist who arrives in the Big Apple with her blonde bombshell sister, played with eye-catching panache by Lucy van Gasse. Their voices, Fisher mellow and van Gasse a soprano, complimented each other.

This amusing homage to 1930s New York was not one of Bernstein's best and has no memorable tunes. It's also riddled with historical errors, including references to JFK and James Dean.

But effervescent performances and high production values won the day.

Leon Burakowski

The company are relocating the depression era musical drama in 1970s apartheid South Africa, in the township of Soweto.

Originally written by George and Ira Gershwin in the 1930s, and set a decade earlier in America's Deep South, it features several classic songs. Summertime, It Ain't Necessarily So, I Got Plenty of Nuttin', and I Loves You Porgy, have all become jazz standards.

The story tells of Porgy's attempts to rescue his beloved Bess from the influence of a drug dealer and also from her violent, possessive lover.

Shared

The South African company, was formed in 1999 to develop opera in South Africa and to develop South African singers, will be staged in Birmingham prior a London run.

The role of Bess will be shared by Soweto-born Tsakane Maswanganyi, Sibongile Mngoma and Nohnhlanhla Yende. The role of Porgy is between Xolela Sixaba and Kaiser Nkosi.

Porgy and Bess will be staged at the Hippodrome from Wednesday, June 6, to Saturday, June 9. Tickets are priced from £15 to £60.

Other opera highlights coming to the Hippodrome include Welsh National Opera with Puccini's La Boheme from June 13 to 15, and Wagner's Tristan and Isolde on June 16.

Sibongile Mngoma as Bess and Xolela Sixaba as Porgy in Cape Town Opera's latest production

Singer hit by poor sound

Lucy Rose, Slade Rooms, Wolverhampton

UNDOUBTEDLY Lucy Rose has talent but it wasn't best displayed at the Slade Rooms in Wolverhampton.

The acoustics and sound management in the venue were appalling and did her no favours at all.

She went through her set list which included Night Bus, Scar, Don't You Worry and her new song Lines.

Danny Farragher

Teenagers in love for nostalgic songs

Save The Last Dance For Me, Wolverhampton Grand

WELL they certainly did save the best until last as they harmonised and ran through a lot of those familiar songs from the 1960s.

Written by Laurence Marks and Maurice Gran, who collaborated to bring hit show Dreamboats And Petticoats to the stage, this is a similar jukebox musical using the songs of Doc Pomus and Mort Shuman.

Set in the early 1960s the songs were all there but somehow it lacked the magic of Dreamboats.

Save The Last Dance For Me told the story of two teenage sisters in the summer of 1963 on holiday in Lowestoft.

Their boring rain-soaked holiday started to look up when they met a good-looking American airman who invited them to a dance at a nearby US air force base.

But a holiday romance brought to the fore several more serious issues, such as racism.

Rush

Certainly the songs came thick and fast but it seemed more quantity than quality, as though there was a rush to fit them all in.

The voices were all good and the band even better, but there was no-one who stood out.

Megan Jones was a perfect choice for the starry-eyed schoolgirl Marie and Hannah Frederick as Jennifer, her older more streetwise sister.

The audience was encouraged to sing along and did to so to numbers such as A Teenager in Love.

The young cast, including 'Elvis', covered many old favourites with enthusiasm.

The show continues at the Grand this week with its last performance on Saturday night.

What Kate did next

Kate Nash: Glee gig

RETURNING to London from Los Angeles, where she has been writing and recording songs for her third album, Kate Nash has announced the Faster Pussycat Run Run tour to preview new material.

Brit Award-winner Nash, who made a big impact with her debut album Made Of Bricks will be at Birmingham's Glee Club on June 24.

Tickets cost £15. Call 0871 4720400.

Folk singer has town hall date

VETERAN Irish folk singer Mary Black brings her considerable talents to the Town Hall, Birmingham, on June 7. She will be promoting her latest album, Stories from the Steeples. The concert starts 7.30pm and tickets cost £15, £19.50 or £24.50. Call 0121 780 4949.

Funky festival ahead

FUNK legends George Clinton and the Family Stone headline the Mostly Jazz Funk & Soul Festival at Birmingham's Moseley Park (June 29-July 1).

Louis's loss is our gain

Gemma Hayes
Glee Club, Birmingham

REGARDLESS of singer Gemma Hayes' talent, she deserves respect for kicking Louis Walsh into touch.

According to Gemma, Walsh approached her after a gig and suggested she make two changes to make them both plenty of money. One was stop writing her own songs and, two, was date a celebrity to get in the tabloids because, according to Walsh, you are no one unless you are in the 'Red Tops'. Fortunately Gemma said no to both requests.

She has a fantastic wit and Irish sense of self-deprecation and, although many of her songs are melancholic, somehow they don't bring you down. In tunes such as In Over My Head – which she dedicated to Walsh – it sounded like a lament while its thumping backbeat and Gemma's silky voice gave it the lift it needed.

Hammers

In the simple acoustic ballad November, Gemma's vocals were displayed in all their glory with her strong emotional tone in every line. Her songs really do have power and, for a petite woman, she hammers her guitar almost as hard as Christy Moore.

One of the highlights of the night was her song Oliver, which is about a boy called Willie, you will have to go to one of her concerts to get the full story behind that one.

CHOICE

Alan Sugar features

The Apprentice: The Final
BBC1, 8.30pm
There's a general view that this hasn't been a classic series of The Apprentice – maybe it's because the format is getting a little over-familiar. However, that could all change as we get to the final, because it's the interview task. Traditionally, this is the time when Alan Sugar's trusted associates go through the candidates' CVs and discover some glaring inconsistencies, but it won't just be their resumes that are under scrutiny. The finalists also have their business plans to talk up if they want to secure that £250,000 investment.

Home of Property

Essential shrubs are the essence of serene spaces

FOR centuries, lavender has been used for domestic purposes in soaps, teas, herbal remedies, bath water and even in cooking.

But nowhere is it more at home than in the garden, to be admired as a low-growing hedge, or fringing a herb garden or simply standing alone in pots in a contemporary setting.

Lavender hedges used to serve as a form of clothes line, as newly washed items were placed over the bushes to dry, becoming impregnated with the scent of lavender oil in the process.

And while the trademark colour of lavender is blue, it actually comes in many different hues, from deep purple to white, creating a mood of subtle sophistication while adding architecture and intense fragrance to a garden.

A native of the Mediterranean, the wonderful thing about lavender is that it will cope with exposed, sunny open positions and the healthiest plants are often those found growing in the most inhospitable position. It's happy in not particularly fertile soil and don't allow it to sit in water in the shade for any length of time or it will sulk.

It looks great as a low-growing hedge fringing front garden paths or steps, as visitors brushing against its aromatic foliage help to release its fragrance.

It will even do well in a window box, attracting honeybees seeking out the nectar and pollen. In garden centres you're likely to come across L. angustifolia, otherwise known as common or English lavender, which grows to around 90cm (3ft), bearing mauve flower spikes.

Mauve

Other common varieties include 'Hidcote', which has dark purple flowers and narrow green leaves, and 'Munstead', a paler blue type which is great for planting en masse to produce low screening. There are many other taller versions which produce stunning displays and are a magnet for beneficial insects.

If you have raised areas it may be worth opting for a smaller variety such as Lavandula 'Little Lady' (height and spread 30cm), which produces masses of sky blue flowers all summer.

Other varieties are more tender, such as L pinnata, also known as fern leaf lavender, which produces strong blue flowers with a hint of purple and can be treated as a bedding plant. It flowers from early summer until autumn and can be discarded once the frost kills it.

Of course, no lavender aficionado could be without French lavender, L. stoechas, with its light purple bracts on the tips of the flower spikes, which comes into its own slightly earlier than common lavender and looks brilliant in terracotta pots. This type, however, will need shelter in a cold winter, either under a porch or in a cool, light room.

As well as needing sunshine, lavender needs good drainage and alkaline soil, so add some lime if your soil is acid, to raise the pH. Mulching around the the root system will help maintain moisture levels in the soil. To keep lavender looking good it needs pruning immediately after flowering or in early or mid-spring.

The Sussex variety of lavender has long flower heads

Back to school for lessons on thrills and skills of hill climbing

IT DOESN'T get the hype of Formula One, but there's a superb motorsport venue in the West Midlands where you don't have to get the thrills second-hand.

By John Griffiths

Speed hill climbing is one of the oldest forms of motorsport, dating back to 1886, and at entry level at least is among the most accessible – it doesn't have to break the bank to have a go.

In fact, barely modified road-going cars can compete on the testing 1,470m course at Loton Park, near Shrewsbury. You can even have a lot of fun (and learn something about both you and your car) in a diesel economy hatchback with just 75bhp on tap and skiddy low rolling resistance tyres, as I did when I spent a day at the Hagley & District Light Car Club's driving school.

Other pupils' cars ranged from a Porsche 911 to a well-used Peugeot estate and from a classic MG Midget to a brand new 'kit car'. The drivers included club members refining their skills on the Loton Park hill, those putting themselves well along the road to their first competition licence, or simply drivers who want to put themselves or their cars through their paces away from the dangers of public roads.

Another positive of hill climbing for the novice or the nervous is you don't have to worry about anyone else: unlike circuit track days you're on your own, and not surrounded by other drivers of unknown abilities or temperament.

One of the beauties of the driving school is that you don't need a high performance, high cost beast: much of the challenge on the 12-foot wide track with hardly a straight bit of road is learning to properly control the car into, through and out of corners.

You learn how to get all your braking and gearchanging done before you start to turn into the corner; to be smooth through the bend and then when and how best to accelerate to the next twisty bit.

The driving school begins with a short classroom session and then you walk the course, with instructors helping you to analyse the corners with the help of cones to mark turning in points, the apex of each corner and its exit point. After half a dozen runs, the cones disappear but your new found skills don't, as you've hopefully gained an understanding of the need and techniques of this precise style of driving.

This isn't a competitive day – the runs aren't timed – but you will know yourself how, once your technique has improved, you can carry more speed through the corners.

That means, no matter what the car, higher speeds on the straighter bits and a faster finish.

It's very satisfying, too, when you know you've got it right.

The club is holding two more driving schools this year, at a cost of £175 per driver, on July 11 and August 8.

Contact Martyn Silcox at martynsilcox@yahoo.co.uk or visit the website at www.hdlcc.com.There's a good chance to get a taste of the course at the 2021 Motor Sport Festival on June30.

You can get the thrills of a passenger ride with a club member in one of a number of exotic cars including Porsches, Caterhams, Cosworths and Aston Martins. Money raised will go to the club's two charities, the West Midlands Air Ambulance and Alberbury Church.

Loton Park hosts the first round of the British Championship plus Leaders and Midland Championships on the weekend of the June 9 and on July 14 and 15 two one-day events featuring Ferrari (both days),Paul Matty Lotus(Saturday), MG (Sunday), Reliant Scimitar (Saturday) and motorcycles (both days). On August 11 and 12 there are again national events, featuring among others Austin-Healeys Bugattis Lotus Sevens and TVRs.

Fleet customer service is aim as Volkswagen commissions survey

VOLKSWAGEN Fleet Services is focusing more than ever on its customers this year, with a unique on-going survey that is designed to find out exactly what contract hire and leasing customers want, and how the organisation can work best to help them.

The survey, commissioned by Volkswagen and operated by company Expert Eye, started in December.

Thirty-four major leasing providers are being questioned about nine core areas, comparing Volkswagen's performance with that of six competitors.

"Part of the reason for commissioning the survey was a realisation that we didn't know exactly what our partners in the contract hire and leasing sectors thought of the services we provided, and so it was going to be difficult to enhance our service offering," said Iker Lazzari, Volkswagen Fleet's National Contract Hire and Leasing Manager.

"We recognise that our leasing partners are our customers, and if we want to be the best in the industry, we need to know how we are doing and where we can improve.'

Based on the results from December to the end of March, Volkswagen is already working on its 'leasing improvement plans', reviewing the results in conjunction with leasing company partners, and agreeing specific areas of enhancement.

These specifically focus on areas for development that were identified in the survey results. In addition to the 'leasing improvement plans' there are a number of other key service initiatives underway, such as a Fleet Sales Excellence programme that is designed to enhance the service quality delivered by Volkswagen's 63 Fleet Business Partner retailers.

Electronic

Also under way is a programme to move all Volkswagen Fleet specialist Retailers to electronic delivery technology using the MoDel platform, following a highly successful trial.

Easy-to-use handheld computers make the car handover easier and more effective than ever: the digital platform cuts paperwork and transmits delivery notifications immediately to the leasing company, so they can seamlessly initiate the customer contract.

Further research will be conducted throughout 2012 to ensure any actions taken on the basis of the results remain relevant to customers' requirements.

Big push to get more on bikes this summer

Family fun on two wheels in the great outdoors

By Caroline Holmes

IAM DRIVING ROAD SAFETY
www.iam.org.uk

SHARE the fun of cycling with a saddle-shy friend this season as part of the Summer of Cycling campaign.

It's encouraging everyone with an interest in cycling to introduce just one friend, neighbour, colleague or family member to cycling.

But if you're dusting down a bike that's been in the shed all winter, or are returning to cycling after a break, the chances are both your knowledge and your bike could do with an MOT.

Inflate your tyres to the right pressure, adjust the saddle to the right height for you, and make sure the gears and brakes work properly. You've got the right saddle height when you're sitting on the saddle and touching the ground with the balls of both feet.

More technically, your leg should be almost fully extended when the pedal is at the bottom of its rotation.

If you haven't used your bike for a while get it serviced to make sure it's safe.

Session

If you're new to cycling or haven't done it for years, it's worth getting a session with a cycle trainer or a more experienced cyclist.

This will help confidence and understanding of riding in traffic.

Cycling is very different to driving and you may want to practise your route. Cycle guides, smartphone applications, and websites can help with route planning, and will normally offer more cycle-friendly routes.

Make sure you are seen. Wear something bright or hi-vis and always use front and rear lights if it's dawn, dusk, dark or foggy.

Take your lights with you just in case you end up cycling back at night. It is also worth taking a small tool kit with you.

A spare pump and inner tube, as well as Allen keys to adjust the saddle and handlebars, will cover you for most eventualities. Practising using them beforehand is advisable, especially if you cycle alone.

They're not mandatory, but wearing a helmet is a good idea. Looking at the dents in my helmet from a couple of minor falls, I'm glad I've had it on.

The most important thing to remember when cycling on the road is that other road users are often not looking for you.

Ride to be seen by positioning yourself slightly away from the kerb, where drivers would be looking for other vehicles.

To help drivers stay safe and enjoy their driving this summer, the IAM has a new website, drivingadvice.org.uk, with traffic updates, weather forecasts, and driving tips, including driving abroad, cycling, coping with Olympic congestion, and loading the car for a long journey.

Give your bike an overhaul if it's been laid up

The new GT86: It's a Toyota – but with a twist

YOU DON'T need an abacus to help you count the number of affordable rear-wheel drive coupes available to buy in the UK these days.

Even if you choose to include Mazda's MX-5 – so long as you fit the hard-top roof – it's a small number.

With nearly everyone now focused on cutting emissions and squeezing as much as possible from a litre of fuel, it would be easy to think that fun has taken a back seat in the minds of car makers.

To a certain degree it has, as it's much more advantageous for a car firm to build yet another low CO_2 car that will earn it copious gold stars among the green lobby. And all the while this is happening, Mazda's MX-5 remains unchallenged.

This situation could be about to change, as a partnership between Toyota and Subaru has produced something that was commonplace a few decades ago: a rear-wheel drive, front-engine coupe promising thrills for sensible money.

Toyota has more form in this department than Subaru thanks to generations of modestly powerful coupes and roadsters, and its GT86 model boasts a last generation Celica-esque footprint and edgy, wedge-like profile.

It's a Toyota with a twist, however.

The corporate-level connection between the two firms resulted in Subaru sharing development responsibilities and donating its trademark flat four 'Boxer' petrol engine.

Sensible

The end result is a thoroughly modern Toyota inside and out powered by a quirky 2.0-litre Boxer motor that's got more in common with a turbo-nutter Impreza than a Prius.

One thing is missing though, and that's a turbocharger. Toyota – and Subaru – have eschewed forced induction in a bid to keep the engine's power output at a sensible – and wallet-friendly – 197bhp.

Predictably with such an engine, most of the action kicks off once past 4,000 revs, which means you'll need to work hard for your thrills.

Fortunately the GT86's manual gearchange is short and accurate, which makes keeping the motor on the boil a straightforward activity in any of the six gears. Opt for the labour-saving auto 'box and you get gearchange paddles and a funky throttle blip on downchanges.

Despite the promise of tuning bits from famed Japanese tuner TRD, Toyota isn't offering any go-faster engine parts for the GT86.

If you want more power, you'll need to look to the aftermarket tuner community. Thankfully you won't be starved of choice or expertise as many have earned their spurs on Subaru's Impreza and Legacy models.

Why the focus on power? It's fair to say that the GT86 could easily handle a dollop more of the stuff; its base set-up is pleasingly neutral and the car's compliant ride is never in the mood to bite you despite the rear-wheel drive layout.

As such, you can hoon to your heart's content, confident that sideways action can be caught quickly and safely, thanks in part to the car's impressive composure and accurate and communicative steering.

If you want to fully appreciate what the GT86 can do, you'll need some track time. Here the car comes alive as you have the space to extend the engine and tap into its modest torque band located at the top end of the rev range.

You can play it neat and tidy or hang it out on every bend – either approach will make you smile.

While this is all great news for track day fans, you still have to live with the car. In this context, Toyota has done a good job with the cabin; dark soft-ish touch plastics abound and you sit suitably low down in supportive seats.

The main controls are simple and intuitive to operate, and there's enough storage space for phones, drinks, maps and the like.

Bucket

In a nod to everyday motoring, the GT86 comes with two rear bucket seats but, realistically, their existence is more for decoration. Fold them down and you've got a straight-through loadspace that's usefully flat and leads back to the easily accessible boot.

Factor in a good level of standard kit – electric windows, decent audio, climate control, Bluetooth, keyless ignition – and the only remotely essential extra is satnav for a few hundred pounds if you don't fancy coughing up for leather seats.

The GT86 isn't Toyota's replacement for the Celica, and neither is it a direct rival for the countless hot hatches that have appeared since that car's demise.

This rear-drive coupe is, however, an intriguing and affordable alternative to the likes of Nissan's 370Z plus Volkswagen's Scirocco and the other compact German luxury coupes that are in a higher price bracket and can't match the Toyota for agility and driver involvement.

Excellent bowling sees first XI home

Penkridge 213-8, Studley 185. Penkridge won by 28 runs

PENKRIDGE firsts continued their excellent start to the season with a hard-fought victory over Studley to see them move to second spot in Birmingham League Division Three.

In difficult batting conditions, Penkridge were made to work hard for their runs with useful contributions from Shafiq Ahmed (38) and Mo Hassan (35) as they posted 213-8 off their 55 overs.

Studley were always in the game, but Penkridge's never-say-die spirit combined with some excellent bowling by Laeq Chishti (5-61) and Ross Shelton (3-38) saw them home.

Cannock 178-7, Penkridge 179-3. Penkridge won by seven wickets

Penkridge seconds returned to winning ways with a crushing win over local rivals Cannock.

Inserting Cannock on an excellent batting wicket, Penkridge's bowlers restricted the visitors to 178-7 with Kieran Smith taking (3-28) and Matt Jenkinson (2-33) off his 15 overs.

In reply, Penkridge got off to a good start with Mohammed Ishfaq scoring 41, but the performance of the day came from Andy Lawson who smashed 80 not out off just 65 balls to seal a convincing win.

Highcroft and Great Barr 64, Penkridge 66-1. Penkridge won by nine wickets

Playing only their second game of the season, Penkridge thirds recorded a comfortable win.

Highcroft were always in trouble and were dismissed in the 28th over for 64 with Khalid Sadiq (4-31) and Zahoor Iqbal (4-14) the main destroyers.

Penkridge took little time to knock off the runs with Tom Morris (29) the only wicket to fall as Penkridge reached their total in the 14th over.

Beacon 99, Penkridge 104-7. Penkridge won by three wickets

The fourths rounded off a fine weekend for the club with a three-wicket win over Beacon.

Superb bowling from Duncan Horobin (5-21) and Chris Henderson (3-24) meant that Penkridge only required 100 runs for victory.

But they lost wickets regularly and were in some trouble until a quickfire 28 not out from Ali Sadaq sealed the win.

Some of the competitors at Cannock Park Golf Club's spring tournament

Hastings takes honours

Golf

IAN HASTINGS took the honours in Cannock Park Golf Club's spring tournament.

Conditions were pleasant for the first of the club's 'major' competitions, but the quicker greens tested players' mettle with the high handicappers adjusting more easily than the more fancied players.

Hastings won the Second Division, and was overall champion on the day with a fine 42 points, nudging vice-captain Tony Denman into second place by a single point. It was a battling round from Hastings, who holed his birdie putt on the 18th green to claim his victory.

Some fiendish pin positions proved a stern test. Ashley Colbourne and 2011 captain Matt Davis both played steadily for their 35 points but were denied top spot in the First Division by a highly creditable 37 points from the improving Chris Preston. George Morgan took the junior prize.

In the first group out, Andy Bird's second shot to six feet on the 15th looked a likely winner of the nearest the pin prize. But it was Owen Nelson who grabbed the glory, his second shot rolling to 17 inches from the hole. Steve Hobday won the nearest the pin on the 18th.

The event was the first qualifying round for the UK Public Course championships to be held at Thornbury in July.

After a difficult winter, the improving weather has seen a dramatic transformation to the course with tees and greens showing the benefit of denser growth.

Olympian Black will help out at city's Dash

OLYMPIC hero Roger Black is to make a guest appearance at the annual Florette Lichfield Dash race.

The 1996 Atlanta silver medalist will be at Lichfield on Saturday, June 30 – the day the Olympic torch goes to the city.

The Dash is in its 14th year and has become part of Lichfield's sporting culture.

The 2011 winner Elliot Giles, of Birchfield Harriers, will defend his crown on the day.

Dash founder Kevin Wilson, of organisers KP Events, said: "The Dash is very special to everyone in Lichfield.

"This year will truly be a massive spectacle and the crowds will flock to the Close to see it.

"With Roger Black on hand to coach the youngsters and help us out with prize-giving and chatting on the PA, it'll be truly unique."

Youngsters and adults can enter races in advance via www.kpevents.net or just turn up on the day.

Another first is the introduction of a giant television screen to enable better viewing for the crowds.

There will also be a special prize for the Dash winner, a tribute trophy designed and made by Arther Price Ltd of Lichfield plus cash.

Junior golf weekend is celebrated

A GOLF club near Rugeley is celebrating the success of a junior weekend.

The Hawkesyard Estate Golf Club offered free junior coaching at the event with Hawkesyard's advanced PGA professional golfer David Partridge.

It resulted in several juniors signing up for the club's academy.

"The response to the open weekend was fantastic," said Partridge.

"It's great to have some new juniors signing up. They're all local to the club and their enthusiasm for the game was clear for all to see.

"Who knows – maybe in the future it'll be one of our juniors wearing the green jacket at The Masters."

Jasmine's clean sweep earns judo gold medal

YOUNGSTER Jasmine Turner is the golden girl of her judo school after a stunning success in Holland.

The nine-year-old won all five of her fights to take gold in the international championships held in Mierlo.

Officials from the Chase-based Meiji School of Excellence took 10 competitors to the event – and described the refereeing as the worst that they had seen.

Judo

Turner, however, simply ruled the judges out of the equation by winning all her fights inside the distance – three of them within five seconds.

With three wins on the board, Turner was already guaranteed a trophy of some description. But she was unaware of the fact and continued to stun opponents with her impressive throws and counter-attacks.

After her fourth win, emotions were running high and her fifth victory brought a huge cheer which echoed around the dojo.

Proud

Sensei Stewart Hogg, third Dan black belt, said: "Jasmine came true in the end.

"After four years of trying, she did what she was shown – Ipponed every one of her fights. There was no room for any referee error."

Turner said: "I am so proud to have finally won in Holland but I would like to thank Sensei for all of his hard work in training us and making sure that we were ready."

The club entered nine young judokwais to compete on day one of the tournament and one adult to tackle the following day's Houvast tournament.

It was a tough competition with lots of skilled fighters from all over Europe, providing a good experience for the Meiji fighters.

As well as Turner, Meiji took five competitors who all got as far as the bronze medal play-off before losing – Shane Davies, Reece Harrington, Lewis Asling, Danny Finlan and Riley Hall-Woodcock. The other four fighters were Meena Harrington, Issie Hall-Woodcock, Callum Nahoor and Stuart Davies.

Meiji School of Excellence train twice a week, at Burntwood Leisure Centre on Wednesdays (6-8pm) and at Hayes Green Community centre on Fridays (6.20-8.30pm). Both classes are for adults and children.

Anyone interested (aged seven and upwards) should contact Hogg

Three and easy for Turner under the new gaffer

It's a hat-trick for Chasetown defender Jimmy Turner as he picks up three awards and meets new boss Craig Harris

CHASETOWN'S new manager Craig Harris was on hand to name Jimmy Turner as the big winner from the club's end-of-season presentations.

Defender Turner took the players', manager's and supporters' player of the year awards at Walsall's Banks's Stadium last Saturday night.

Striker Dean Perrow picked up the Golden Boot for his 10 goals, in what was a relegation season from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League.

Perrow was visibly distraught as he's leaving for Leamington, having spent five years with the Scholars.

Long-serving boss Charlie Blakemore, who stepped down after eight years in charge last October, received a life membership of the club.

Double-winning reserve team boss Andy Penny was also honoured.

Maiden 100 – but rivals triumph by one wicket

Cannock (7pts) 208-8, Barnards Green (24pts) 209-9. Barnards Green won by one wicket

DESPITE a maiden ton by Will Fleet and five wickets for his brother Ed, Cannock lost by the narrowest of margins.

In a finish of unbearable tension the visitors' No.11 batsman James Marsh hit the winning runs – after being dropped the previous ball.

Batting first, Cannock were boosted by Will Fleet's 100 not out.

But Fleet found little support, a brisk innings by Richie Hewitt (18) and a cultured knock by Sean Collings (38) aside, as the home team posted a disappointing total of 208.

Eddie Martin (3-47) and Ed Fleet (5-47) almost bowled Cannock to the victory – but the catches didn't stick.

Cannock 178-7, Penkridge 179-3. Penkridge won by seven wickets

Cannock seconds fell to defeat after struggling with the bat against Penkridge.

Matt Davenport top-scored with 32 on a day when several players got set but could not go on to make a big score.

Penkridge's Andrew Lawson, in contrast, hit an unbeaten 80 as his team chased down the target.

Cannock 200-6, Coseley 204-3. Coseley won by seven wickets

Cannock thirds slipped to a seven-wicket defeat as their attack wilted in the sweltering afternoon heat.

Winning the toss and batting first Cannock lost two early wickets before Ian Slym and Dan Wood steadied the ship.

Slym was out for a solid 23, but Tom Bull (48) joined Wood (62) for a partnership of 88 before both fell in quick succession. Cannock closed on 200-6.

Coseley's innings started briskly, but two quick wickets bought some renewed vigour in the field.

But Sam Pitt, aided by Nicholas Benton, began to put Coseley in control of the match. Cannock's usually reliable attack looked lost for ideas and their fielders were struggling in the late afternoon heat.

Benton eventually fell for 31 but by now the game was lost and another boundary from Pitt took Coseley past the winning post.

Pitt finished with an excellent 115 not out.

Mike Ankers celebrates after his hole in one at Dubai

Mike makes a hole in one

Golf

A STAFFORDSHIRE golfer is celebrating a hole in one – at the prestigious Els Club in Dubai.

Mike Ankers landed his first ever ace in the final of amateur golf's The Matchplay Championship. He had just one regret – Sky TV cameras began filming at the hole just 10 minutes after his moment of glory.

Ankers, who plays at Darnford Moors, and Bloxwich Golf Club's Chris Scott-Douglas finished third tournament with an overall total of 125.

"The hole in one is my first ever," said Ankers. "I had lasered the flag at 159 yards, the wind was from behind and helping. I chose an eight-iron and as it turned out it was the right choice!

"My playing partner Chris and one of our playing partners for the day said immediately I hit the shot: 'I hope you have your wallet with you?'

"The ball never left the flag but I never believed it would go in. As I bent down while the ball was still in flight to pick up my tee, I kept watching and as I removed the tee, the ball fell in the hole. I fell to my knees in disbelief, stunned I think more than anything.

"Long have I held the belief that if I was ever to be graced with a hole in one it had to be on a great course and that I would be able to see the ball disappear. To be disappointed that it was not filmed would be selfish. It's not that many people who have had the opportunity to celebrate a hole in one."

The pair were joint second after day one, shooting 41 Stableford points.

Day two brought 42 points and outright second place, five shots adrift of the leaders. A third day charge put them in contention and cut the gap to just two points.

"Unfortunately having hit two great tee shots on the 10th hole we couldn't capitalise and struggled to keep the good form of the front nine," Ankers said.

Morgan's ton helps his team to a draw

Milford Hall 328-6, Cannock and Rugeley 216-7. Draw

OPENER Rhys Morgan's undefeated 131 helped Cannock and Rugeley avoid defeat against Milford Hall.

Morgan batted through the 50 overs to score well over half his side's runs.

Milford, put into bat, started well and had already passed the 100 mark by the time the second wicket fell.

Todd Henderson made 117 not out as Milford piled on the runs to post 328-6.

It was a tough day for the bowlers, but Ryan Ponder finished with 4-78 while Jimmy Taylor took 2-28.

Cannock and Rugeley started quickly, and despite two early wickets for Henderson, who finished with 2-30, they were still ahead of Milford's comparable score by the 40th over. However, two wickets apiece for Sam Jeavons and Guy Bullpit changed the emphasis.

After the fall of the seventh wicket in the 42nd over, Cannock and Rugeley opted to bat more cautiously and blocked out the final overs to finish on 216-7.

Milford Hall 151, Cannock and Rugeley 152-3. Cannock and Rugeley won by seven wickets

A magnificent spell of bowling by David Morris paved the way to victory for the second team. Morris took 7-45 to skittle Milford Hall seconds for just 151.

An unbeaten 60 from Simon Hawkins then eased Cannock and Rugeley to the target.

First-time hockey hosts finish with clean sweep

Hockey

CANNOCK HOCKEY CLUB made a clean sweep when staging their first-ever juniors competition at Chase Park.

The hosts won at both under-14 and under 16-level at an event which featured quality hockey in sunny weather.

Leek and Bridgnorth Juniors entered sides for both age groups and West Bromwich fielded an under-14 side.

So four sides competed for the under-14s trophy while three battled it out at under-16 level.

The hosts took all the prizes after both sides won their respective competitions with 100 per cent records.

Cannock under-14s won 3-0, 8-0 and 5-1 with West Bromwich finishing with silver after winning two matches.

In the under-16s, Cannock came through after a 2-0 victory over Leek thanks to strikes from Callum Stacey and Cameron Beswick, followed by a 3-0 win over Bridgnorth. Beswick was again on the scoresheet, along with Luke Davies and Jake Bilson. Bridgnorth picked up silver after a 10-1 win over Leek.

Cannock defender Ethan Sweeney was taken to hospital after taking a bang to the head during the final game.

But he suffered only mild concussion.

Younger players were honoured at the club's junior presentation evening.

Cannock under-14s have come on well over the course of the season and were beaten just three times in the whole of the season.

In the Badgers team, player of the season was captain Ollie Edwards. Cannock under-16s have enjoyed a super season. They were Midlands indoor and outdoor champions as well as being national indoor and outdoor finalists.

The players' player of the season was awarded to goalkeeper Ollie Balcombe, whose display against Wycombe in the National finals showcased that he is among the best young keepers at the club and country.

Jake Bilson was most improved player of the season after making huge strides and performing well in the Badgers despite only playing for 12 months.

Finally, coach Alex Hill's player of the season award went to defender Dan Hoare after his massive contribution to his team's success.

He showed leadership on and off the pitch and was willing to put his body on the line to defend his goal, suffering a broken collar bone in the final game of the national finals.

Player of the season was Jack Middleton while coach Gary Stacey gave goalkeeper Jack Hitchens his player of the season accolade.

Sparkle for Diamonds

Hednesford Utd U12 Girls 0 Lichfield Diamonds U12 1

HEDNESFORD missed out in their bid to stop Lichfield completing a league and cup double.

Julia Kings' goal was enough to win the South Staffs Young Women's League cup final.

Lichfield kept Hednesford on the back foot for long spells of the game, forcing several good saves from their keeper.

In the second half lone striker Elizabeth Palmer showed good hold-up play and clever passes to pick out the runs of Megan Davey and Kings.

As the game wore on, Charlotte Jarvis sent in a corner which Kings met on the volley for the only goal.

Belt Road win league for fourth time in row

Belt Road 1 The Dog 0

BELT ROAD FC were crowned Cannock Chase League Premier champions for the fourth year running after scoring in injury time against runners-up The Dog.

The Dog needed victory to take their first title and piled on the pressure.

But the first half brought no goals and the second continued in the same vein.

The clock ticked on and still The Dog pressed. With four minutes to go, a rare Belt Road attack brought a penalty.

After the crowd settled down, up stepped top scorer Chris Deakin to hit his shot against the underside of the bar and away to safety – his fourth penalty miss of the season.

The Dog were immediately back on the attack , but with seconds to go Belt Road broke away.

Deakin's shot was saved, but the keeper could not hold on to the ball and the same player stroked in his 25th goal of the season to clinch the title.

Belt Road claimed their sixth title in the last eight seasons.

Their fourth consecutive crown is something no other team has managed in the league's history.

It's all a far cry from 1992 when they were promoted to the Premier League and had to wait until 2004 even to be runners-up.

Results. Premier Division: Belt Road 0 Brereton Social Lion 3

Brereton Town Cup final: Yates Sports 2 Homestead 1 (aet)

Jock Corrigan Cup final: Ridware Oak 2 Rugeley Utd 1.

Clements waits to seal exit from Pitmen

by Craig Birch

HEDNESFORD'S star midfielder Chris Clements will see his move back into full-time football with Mansfield rubber-stamped next week.

Clements' switch to the Stags on a two-year contract has been accepted and a fee has been agreed by both parties for the 22-year-old.

The Pitmen had taken their option to extend his contract for another year, so they were entitled to compensation with the player moving on.

And, as soon as club secretary Terry McMahon returns from his summer holiday, the ex-Crewe trainee will be a professional once again.

But, as the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League's Young Player of the Year prepares to leave Keys Park, no fewer than four new signings have arrived.

Clements' void is set to be filled by Dave McPherson, who has returned to Keys Park for a second spell.

The 32-year-old has signed from league rivals Nantwich and is joined by team-mate Michael Lennon, one of three dangerous strikers to arrive at the club.

Former Middlesbrough trainee Lennon plundered 106 goals in four years with the Dabbers and scored 21 times last season.

The 30-year-old is joined by one of the deadliest strike-forces in the division, Marine duo Aaron Rey and Neil Harvey.

Bermuda international Harvey, 32, got 16 goals for Marine last season while attacking cohort Rey weighed in with 12 strikes.

● Former Hednesford defender Ludovic Quistin has died in a road traffic accident in his native Guadeloupe.

The 28-year-old was involved in a fatal motorcycle crash in Bouliqui on the Grande Terre island of the French overseas territory on Tuesday.

After spending his early career playing in the south of England, the left-back joined Hednesford from Halesowen in 2008.

It was at Keys Park where Quistin received his first international call-up and he had two separate spells with the Pitmen.

After leaving and relocating to the north-west, Quistin joined FC United, playing 34 games before leaving the club last year.

He had most recently played for Forest Green Rovers, playing reserve games.

BIRCH IS THE NEXT OUT OF SCHOLARS

CHASETOWN boss Craig Harris today revealed Gary Birch has become the second long-serving Scholars player to quit the club.

The 30-year-old has lined up a move into the Blue Square North with Solihull Moors, bringing to an end a four-year spell at the Scholars Ground.

The former Walsall, Kidderminster Harriers and Lincoln City forward follows free-scoring strike partner Dean Perrow out of the exit door.

Perrow has landed a contract with Evo-Stik League Southern side Leamington for next season, after five years with the Scholars.

Birch's move has yet to be rubber-stamped but Harris has accepted his departure.

However, the Scholars boss insists that both will be leaving on good terms.

He said: "We think Gary has gone to Solihull Moors, we are just waiting on confirmation of that but that's what he told me.

"We had a meeting and Gary let me know then so, like with Dean going, it's been done in the right way, as far as I am concerned.

"They have both been good servants to the club in recent years and we wish them good luck, they will go with our best wishes."

Perrow said his goodbyes at last Saturday's presentation awards night at Walsall's Banks's Stadium but the door remains open for a return.

Harris also admitted it's the inevitable fall-out of relegation from the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League.

He said: "Dean has been a great player for the club and we wish him all of the best.

"We have said to him that we hope that, if it doesn't club work out, we will be the first club he rings.

"He's going to play higher and no-one can stand in the lad's way for that."

Harris has also made changes to his backroom staff and promoted Kevin Sweeney from academy coach to assistant manager.

by Craig Birch

The 63-year-old has a long-standing relationship with the new manager, who takes over from Andy Cox in the role.

And Sweeney has got "more than enough" skills to make a success of the job, according to Harris.

He said: "I actually helped Kev get to Chasetown in the first place – Charlie Blakemore was the manager at the time and wanted a coach and I told him that I knew a guy.

"I have known him 20 years, he was my youth and reserve team manager at Halesowen and he's got more than enough skills.

"He's the guy I wanted with me, he's got vast experience and he's top notch."

Cox now faces an uncertain future at the club as he takes time out to consider the general manager's position he has been offered by the new regime.

Mainly a non-coaching role, the now-former No.2 could decide he wants to leave and find a more hands-on role elsewhere.

If he does leave, Chasetown would be losing a club stalwart with 16 years of service both as a player and on the backroom staff.

Cox has played more than 400 games for the club and was on the backroom staff for the famous FA Cup third round run of 2008, two promotions and a relegation.

Along with fellow coaches Andy Penny and Andy Turner, Cox was on the sidelines when the team went down on the final day of the season last month.

But Harris is not taking it as a given that Cox will move on this summer.

He said: "Andy wants a bit of time to think it over, because he doesn't really want to be pushed off the football side too much.

"He would be a general manager, but I would still always want him there for a bit of good advice."

Harris met the fans for the first time at the end-of-season awards last weekend and presented a gong to Jimmy Turner, a hat-trick winner on the night.

The new manager, who replaced Chris Brindley earlier this month, will now go face-to-face with supporters at a Fans Forum.

It has been set for the Scholars Ground tonight at 7.30pm, where plans for the upcoming campaign will be high on the agenda as a new era begins.

Rugby gets a touch of fun added

RUGELEY Rugby Club is launching summer touch rugby sessions.

They will run on Wednesday evenings at St Augustine's Field from 7.30-8.30pm.

The sessions are open to all adults – men or women – and will be free of charge.

Rugeley secretary Martin de Ridder said: "Touch rugby is a fun way to keep fit over the summer months.

"We would love non-rugby players to come down and join us; they will be given a warm welcome."

Touch rugby is a non-contact version of the 15-a-side sport and does not involve scrumaging or tackling.

De Ridder added: "Touch rugby is to rugby what five-a-side is to football.

"The rules are easy to learn even if you have never played rugby before. We would also love any retired players to come along."

Anybody who is interested can simply show up on Wednesdays at 7.30pm at the field behind St Augustine's Church, Station Road, WS15 2HG.
